

Japs Demand End Of Premier's Cabinet

Committee of 'Peoples' Front' Say They Represent 70,000 Persons; Three Resolutions Are Presented

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, April 8 (AP)—With Japan's election two days away, a 14-man committee of the "Democratic Peoples' Front" appeared today before Premier Shidehara with a demand that his cabinet resign immediately.

The committee, claiming to represent 70,000 persons, called on Shidehara as a follow-up to yesterday's explosive Left-Wing demonstration in which at least 10,000 Communist-led demonstrators swarmed into the Premier's courtyard, broke windows and injured eight Japanese policemen. The crowd, which was headed quickly from the residence by heavily-armed U. S. Military Police, did not accompany the committee today.

Three resolutions were presented to Shidehara by the group. One from Japanese concerned the amount of rice provided under the compulsory purchase rules; another from labor unions opposed the announced government plan for drafting legislation to prohibit labor unions from assuming control of industries during strikes; the third was an eight-point demand for the cabinet resignation because of its inability to solve the country's problems.

Kyuichi Tokuda, secretary of the Communist party, who led yesterday's demonstration and headed the committee today, handed the resolutions to Shidehara, discussed each point and then insisted on an answer from the Premier.

Shidehara, facing the sharpest direct criticism his cabinet has received in its six months of existence, appeared flushed and nervous, but he answered all questions calmly with variations of this reply:

"I came here to listen to you, not to argue."

The committee had argued 45 minutes before getting past Secretary of the cabinet, who demurred, declaring the committee was not composed of the same individuals as those promised an interview during yesterday's demonstration.

They crowded into the room with reporters and grouped around Shidehara, who remained seated, gazing at the ceiling during Tokuda's presentation of their case.

Tokuda touched on most of the current Japanese problems, and accused the Shidehara cabinet of mishandling them.

The session with Shidehara ended.

Two Are Injured In Accidents in Ulster; Man Fined

Two Million Residents Are Hurt Slightly; Lever Salesman Pays as Drunken Driver

Four automobile accidents, in which two persons were injured, but not seriously, were reported over the week-end in Ulster county by State Troopers. One of the drivers of an auto was arrested charged with operating a car while intoxicated, and was fined $25.

William H. LaField, salesman for Lever Brothers of Cambridge, Mass., was arrested Sunday evening following a crash on Route 9-W, when he ran his car off the road and struck a building on the property of Ben's Auto Parts, just north of the Neighborhood Road.

State Troopers Thomas J. Maliga and C. W. Seymour placed LaField under arrest on a charge of operating a car while intoxicated. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush of the town of Ulster, LaField pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25. He paid the fine.

Crash Near Highland
Sunday morning about 3 o'clock two cars were in collision on Route 9-W a mile north of Highland.

According to the State Troopers a sedan owned by Victor Ziegler of Poughkeepsie, and operated by his brother, Joseph, collided with a 1940 Packard sedan, owned by Anthony J. Brown, 32, of Harden street, Poughkeepsie.

Both cars were damaged, but no one was hurt. There was no arrest.

'Win-the-Peace' Committee Makes Demand for Action

Several Hundred Delegates Will Organize Units All Over Nation; Aims Cited

Washington, April 8, (AP)—The "National Committee to Win the Peace" headed for Capitol Hill today to demand action on a many-sided program drafted during three days of organizational meetings.

After personal calls on senators and representatives the several hundred delegates from over the nation plan to return home to start organizing local and state chapters.

Announced objectives include: On the international side, closer cooperation with the Soviet Union, avoidance of "unilateral" action by the United States and more extensive use of the United Nations.

On the domestic side, salvage of most of the administrative-backed measures which have been state-tracked or delayed by a combination of Republicans and southern Democrats.

Marine Col. Evans Carlson, who distinguished himself as commander of "Carlson's Raiders" in China, and Paul Robeson, negro singer, were designated co-chairmen of the provisional national committee.

Other members were listed as being affiliated with labor unions, veterans groups and a variety of organizations which have devoted themselves in the past to condemning Fascism, promoting closer ties with the Soviet Union and advocating abolition of racial discriminations.

Five of 20 members of congress listed as sponsors before the "Win-the-Peace" conference was held at their homes by the committee.

At the opening of the session in the Commerce Department Auditorium included Reps. De Lacy (Wash.), Savage (Wash.) and Sabbath (Ill.) and Senator Pepper (Fla.), all Democrats.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 8 (AP)—Bradley Dewey, former rubber director today criticized some scientists who, he said, in discussions of atomic energy, have created "the impression that they have all the answers, even in the field of politics."

President of the American Chemical Society, Col. Dewey declared in an address prepared for delivery at the opening of the society's 109th meeting.

"We need to maintain our equilibrium as scientists and professional men amidst the babel of voices which has been mounting in volume since the atomic bomb was dropped."

"To a certain extent scientists have added to this confusion of tongues and some have succeeded in creating the impression that they have all the answers, even in the field of politics, national and international."

"In so doing some have forgotten that national leadership is only won by long, self-sacrificing public service."

Technical sessions of the meeting, for which an attendance of 10,000 chemists, chemical engineers and industrialists is scheduled will begin tomorrow.

Dewey offered no further amplification of his criticism, but he declared:

"What is needed now is calmness to evaluate the meaning of this new (atomic) force and to inform all the people of all the scientific facts necessary to harness this force for peaceful purposes."

"What is needed is recognition that the moral and political problems of atomic energy are the same as (those) of pre-atomic molecular energy. Rotterdam, Tokyo, Coventry and Berlin were destroyed without atomic bombs."

"We need," he said, "to stress more the enormous good which nuclear science can bring to our people."

The one-time chief of the nation's wartime rubber program also said the policies of the country's Selective Service system "involve a dangerous and indefensible misuse of manpower, especially of scientific manpower."

Veterans Choosy of Local Jobs

Employment Service Says 800-900 Men Back From Duty Are Unemployed

Few Are Skilled

Highly-Skilled Men Are in Minority, Stanton Reports

There are between 800 and 900 unemployed war veterans in Ulster county on the basis of applications filed with the United States Employment Service, and a decisive majority of these ex-GIs are rather discriminating about the type of employment they will accept, a Freeman survey disclosed today.

"Practically every returned veteran who applies for a job is willing to work immediately," George J. Stanton, manager of the Kingston office of U.S.E.S., told The Freeman, "but a majority of them are not amenable to existing wage levels."

Asked if this condition was brought about by the 52-week unemployment insurance benefits available to unemployed persons, Mr. Stanton declined to make an affirmative statement.

"I don't believe that every ex-GI would rather draw unemployment insurance than work at current wage levels and opportunities," Stanton said, "but the availability of the $24 a week tax and insurance fee, unemployment insurance is undoubtedly influencing many of the veterans."

Long-Range View Not Prevalent
Deplored the fact that many veterans are overlooking the long range possibilities and chances for promotions and advancements offered by jobs that do not presently appear attractive, Mr. Stanton offered a realistic appraisal of the situation. "I don't doubt that many veterans reason this way," Stanton said, "Why accept a low-paying job when I can get $24 a week, tax and insurance free? The difference in the average job isn't enough to make it worthwhile to accept employment that perhaps I won't like."

Mr. Stanton declared that highly-skilled war veterans who can demand better-paying jobs represent only between 15 and 20 percent of the approximately 900 men now seeking employment.

"Even a large number of this 20 percent must be re-converted from Army to civilian industrial demands," he added.

"I believe many GIs are making a bad mistake by not accepting some of the jobs now available to them," Stanton said. "They are overlooking the permanency and opportunities for advancement of these positions offer."

Mr. Stanton pointed out that Field Work Is Done
Members of their staff devote part of their time on different days to field work, contacting employers, to locate all available jobs.

The employer-contact program will be stepped up considerably this week, he said, in line with the intensive drive announced today by Joseph B. O'Connor, Regional U.S.E.S. Director.

Employers will be asked to make every job known to the veterans and the even larger number of non-veterans seeking jobs through U.S.E.S.

U.S.E.S. staffs throughout New York state are being diverted from every activity that is not immediately productive in terms of jobs, and for the next few weeks will have only one assignment.

Russia Threatens New U. N. Boycott Unless Iran's Case Is Dropped; Reds Get 51 Per Cent Control of Iran's Oil

Promises Full Text of Agreement Will Be Published; Reds to Pay Expenses

Gives Invitation

Azerbaijan Diplomats Are Invited to Visit Tehran

Tehran, April 8 (AP)—The Iranian government apparently had not reached a decision this morning as to its policy toward Soviet demands that the Iranian case be withdrawn from the United Nations Security Council.

Prince Firouz, Minister of Propaganda, when asked if Premier Ahmed Qavam supported the Soviet demand, said "action on Mr. Gromyko's request is entirely a Security Council matter."

A cabinet member said privately, however, he believed "in view of the friendly relations existing between Persia and Russia," that Qavam would agree to dropping the case from the agenda.

"After all our governments are now in agreement on the problems posed before the Security Council," he said.

On the other hand the Tehran radio, which is government-operated, repeated a statement made to reporters by Qavam yesterday that the case would remain on the Council's docket until May 6, the date the Russians have set for completion of their troop evacuation.

(A Reuters dispatch from Tehran said Qavam had ordered troops to proceed immediately to the Caspian seacoast province of Mazandaran following reports of an attempted coup d'etat.)

Promises Revealed
By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
Tehran, April 8 (AP)—Iranian officials today promised to publish the full text of the agreement between the Soviet Union and Iran regarding the 50-year oil concession.

Disclosing additional details of the agreement, which was announced in a Soviet-Iranian communique last Friday, Premier Ahmed Qavam told Iranian newsmen yesterday that Russia would control 51 per cent and Iran 49 per cent of the stock for the first 25 years.

At the same time, the premier revealed he had invited the "people of Azerbaijan" province, where a semi-autonomous government had been established in defiance of the Tehran government, to send representatives here for negotiations.

In response to a question as to whether these representatives would include followers of "Premier" Jafar Pishavari of the Azerbaijan regime Qavam said that "discussions will be carried out with the people of Azerbaijan, and naturally they are included."

Qavam told newsmen that elections for a new parliament would be held immediately after the Russian withdrawal.

The premier said the oil agreement with Russia was not secret and that the text would be published soon. He was quoted also as saying that "all exploring expenses will be borne by the Russians," and that Iran would retain all rights to the ground."

The newspaper Ettelaat said Qavam indicated that during the second 25-year term of the 50-year agreement, Iran would control 51 per cent and Russia 49 per cent of the company's stock.

(The Moscow radio, heard in London, said that Russia and Iran each would control 50 per cent of the stock during the second 25-year term. The broadcast confirmed Qavam's statement that Russia would control 51 per cent of the stock during the first 25-year term.)

(The radio added that company profits would be divided according to the number of shares held by each country; that Iran "exclusively" would guard the land in which the company operated; that a narrow 200-mile strip along the Turkish frontier in Azerbaijan would be exempt from operations of the company, and that Iran would have the right either to buy out the Russian shares or prolong the company's existence after the 50-year term.)

Five Autos Stolen Over Week-End in City and Vicinity

Police Caution Against Owners Leaving Cars Unlocked When Not in Use

An epidemic of automobile thefts has hit this area and police today advised that owners take precaution against losing their cars.

Five cars were stolen over the week-end, two in Kingston, one in Saugerties and two in Catskill. Three of them have been recovered.

Fred Hoffman of 143 Fair street parked his 1941 Buick on Maiden Lane Sunday morning during church services and it was gone when he returned.

Victor Russo's 1941 Buick was stolen from the garage in the rear of his home, 103 Albany avenue, after it had been put away Sunday night.

Mr. Hoffman took the key from the ignition after parking his car, but said today he was not certain whether he had locked it.

Mr. Russo said he had left the ignition key in his car as it stood in the garage.

Catskills Switched
Patrolman DuBois of the Catskill police told a Freeman reporter this afternoon that the Hoffman Buick was found on Liberty street before noon, with the license plate missing. The auto was located by police checking on another stolen car that had been reported taken from Liberty street.

This afternoon the Kingston police were notified that the Russo car had been recovered in Catskill, near the Greene County Memorial Hospital.

The notice about the recovery of the Russo car stated that a Catskill physician's auto, that had been parked near where the Kingston Buick was found, was missing, indicating that the thief probably switched autos.

Saugerties Car Recovered
Saturday night the 1940 Hudson sedan of Percy Martin of Saugerties was stolen from his garage. Saugerties police and State Troopers were notified and Sunday the car was recovered by Troopers at Claverack, Columbia county. Mr. Martin was notified and went to Claverack Sunday for the car.

Chief Charles Phinney of the Kingston police department said further investigation of the thefts is necessary before determining whether an organized gang of car thieves is operating in this territory. Other police officials concurred.

Warns Owners
All car owners should remove ignition keys and lock their autos, Chief Phinney advised, whether they park them on the public highways or leave them in their own garages.

Hitler Aide Arrested
Frankfurt, April 8 (AP)—The American-controlled Dana News Agency reported today that Frau Marie-Thelma Weichelt, whom it described as Adolf Hitler's private secretary, had been arrested in Ullingen, near Wuerzburg, Frau Weichelt frequently helped the Fuehrer draft his speeches, the agency said.

Swartzmiller Will Be at Port Ewen

Commerce Department Aide Will Discuss Future Planning

W. Dale Swartzmiller, manager of the Kingston Regional office of the New York State Department of Commerce, will speak to the officers, directors, members and prospective members of the Town of Esopus Chamber of Commerce at a meeting called for Wednesday evening, April 10, at 8 o'clock at the town hall in Port Ewen.

At a recent meeting Ed Huben spoke to the members on the benefits which could be derived by a township organization and through publicizing the advantages of the township, both from a recreational viewpoint as an industrial view point. As a result the newly formed Chamber of Commerce is now proceeding with the publication of a township folder in which will be outlined the town of Esopus advantages as an industrial and also recreational locality.

Wednesday evening Mr. Swartzmiller will discuss the problem of planning for the future along the recreational line, pointing out what has been accomplished in other communities and what can be done in Esopus. He will also speak on the program of the state in publicizing the region.

All officers and directors are urged to attend this meeting as well as members and an invitation is extended to prospective members who may become members at that time.

At the time Mr. Huben spoke he pointed out the program which was being carried out by the Ulster-Greene County Vacationland movement and placed it before the members as a proposal that the township join in the movement and add its enthusiasm to this successful movement in which so many of the local townships have joined to bring about the present success of the movement.

The Town of Esopus Chamber of Commerce officers and directors have formed a program of procedure which will include publicizing both the recreational and industrial advantages of the township and that will be discussed at the meeting Wednesday.

A complete list of the officers and directors of the newly formed Chamber of Commerce of the township of Esopus is:

President, Thomas Bohan; vice president, P. Joseph Beichert; vice president, Charles Elmendorf; vice president, Milton Tisler; secretary, Alice Tinnie; treasurer, Raymond Howe; honorary chairman, Roscoe V. Elsworth; directors: Rifton, Ernest Frost; Lambert Decker; Connelly, Thomas Morrissey; Joseph Dulin; St. Remy, Harry Ellsworth; Alfred Stricker; Port Ewen, John T. Groves; Lester O. Ferguson; Harry C. Jump; Herman Sersky; Ulster Park, Everett Soper; Holt Winfield; Henry Cameron; Esopus, John O. Beaver; Wilson LeFever; West Park, Ido Broglio; Joseph Vaili.

Endeavor Convention Is Scheduled in July

The New York State Christian Endeavor Union will hold its Victory Convention at Silver Bay on Lake George, New York from July 6 to 9. The selection of the location of the 53rd convention of the organization has just been announced by Miss Hilda C. Appelbaum of Staten Island, state union president.

"Enlist for Christ" is the theme for the three-day meeting. The opening session will be held on Saturday evening. The schedule for Sunday will include group conferences, a missionary presentation, and a music appreciation program in the evening. Additional conferences and an evening program stressing citizenship will feature the program Monday. The program on Tuesday will include the closing sessions of the group conferences, a business session, the election and installation of the state union officers, and the closing inspirational address.

Eugene G. Alhart of Rochester, state union vice-president, is the general convention chairman. George R. Wells of Glens Falls is chairman of the program committee. The following persons are assisting Mr. Wells: Miss Florence M. Raber of Richmond Hill; Mrs. Ann Anker of Troy; Miss Lillian Zimmer of Buffalo; Miss Dorothy Place of Otego; and Milton G. Bilard of Lynbrook.

A state-wide registration contest for the convention has been started under the direction of Mr. Alhart and Miss Elizabeth Masarech of Tarrytown, state office secretary. Suitable achievement awards will be presented to individuals, societies and county union groups. Registration and reservation details will be handled through the state union office in Tarrytown.

SHAFT DRIVEN THROUGH BODY

Matthew Brown of Roswell, Ga., recovering in Grady Hospital, Atlanta, Ga., looks at a two-inch-square shaft of wood (top) that was driven through his abdomen while he worked at a saw mill. Bottom photo, taken by Grady Hospital, shows the shaft before it was removed. About 16 feet of the 18-foot shaft had to be cut off to get Brown into the ambulance. (AP Wirephoto).

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Back in the Doghouse
Mineola, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—The shortest jail break on record here was foiled yesterday by police after a prisoner crashed through a closed window, and took to his heels.

Police just whistled and the prisoner returned.

He was a St. Bernard dog picked up because he had no leash.

Her Turn Now
Los Alamos, N. M., April 8 (AP)—Sgt. S. Randolph Rushing, Army Signal Corps, arrived at the Los Alamos atomic bomb project to work in the technical area telephone office.

He reported to the non-commissioned officer in charge of the office, T. Sgt. Nellie M. Rushing—his daughter.

Sign Believer
Milwaukee, Wis., April 8 (AP)—Kenny Kipen, 6, who had gone to play with his friend, Scotty Kuesel, came running back because, "There was a sign on the door."

"Did it say m-e-a-s-u-r-e-s?" his mother asked Kenny, who is learning his letters but can't read.

Kenny couldn't remember so he hurried over to Scotty's house again, this time with pencil and paper to make a laboriously printed copy of the sign. It read: "Please Wipe Your Feet."

Cat Climb
Joliet, Ill., April 8 (AP)—George Langford went up a tree after a cat, but the higher George went the higher the cat climbed.

After four days of this, Langford prevailed upon Will County Sheriff Ralph H. Newkirk. The sheriff wasn't able to entice the cat either but he called upon Steve Pasco, 21, a trusty, in jail for stealing poultry.

Pasco made short work of rescuing the cat, which scurried away

to freedom, while Pasco went back to jail.

X-rays Are Planned
Syracuse, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—The student body, faculty and administrative personnel of Syracuse University will be X-rayed beginning Wednesday. The X-rays, to be taken at the rate of nearly 1,000 a day, are expected to provide statistical information in the national program for control of tuberculosis. They are being taken with the cooperation of the district office of the State Health Department and the Onondaga County Health Association.

ASTHMA
SUFFERERS FIND CURE FOR MISERY DUE TO ASTHMA ATTACKS
Supply Busted Here—Sufferers Rejoice
New hope for relief from distress of asthma paroxysms is announced today in reports of success with a palliative formula which has the power to relieve asthmatic and bronchial congestion. Men and women who formerly suffered with dread coughing, choking, wheezing attacks of asthma paroxysms now tell of blessed relief after using it. PROMETIN costs $3.00, but considering results experienced, this is not expensive, amounts to only a few pennies a dose. (Caution—use only as directed.) PROMETIN is sold with strict non-refundable guarantee by United Cut Rate Pharmacy, 324 Wall St. Mail Orders Filled.

What Congress Is Doing Today

(By The Associated Press)

Senate—Begins consideration of emergency housing bill carrying $600,000,000 in subsidies for building materials.

Military Committee hears Gen. Eisenhower on extension of draft law.

Atomic Energy Committee works on final draft of control bill.

EVERY WOMAN SHOULD BE TOLD—
Women who douche should certainly know about this effective "bacteriostatic" douche which Lydia E. Pinkham's SANITARY WASH now offers. Hospital tests have already proved it wonderfully effective for vaginal cleanliness.

Sanitary Wash has been especially developed to check growth of the more vulnerable germs, relieve odor, itching and minor discharge. So wonderfully cleansing, soothing, deodorizing. Positively won't irritate. All drugstores.

Roosevelt Estate Will Be Dedicated At Special Rites

President Truman Will Attend Friday Ceremony Marking Anniversary of F.D.R.'s Death

Hyde Park, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's Hyde Park estate, where the former president was born and buried, will be dedicated as a national shrine Friday with "F.D.R.," Truman participated in the funeral ceremony.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Secretary of the Interior J. A. Brown also will take part in the dedication, marking the first anniversary of the president's death.

All through the winter, specialists of the Department of the Interior and a corps of gardeners have been preparing the house and grounds for the dedication.

The stone and stucco house has been arranged just as it appeared in photographs, as noted by Mr. Roosevelt in 1941. Long before he died, the "Square of Hyde Park" had been designated as a national shrine.

Since last November, when the Interior department gained possession of the house from the Roosevelt family, the grounds have been carefully maintained and placed in exactly as it appeared in the 1940 photographs.

On Friday, only the 700 guests of Secretary Brown will be permitted to enter the house, but thereafter the public will be admitted.

Formal invitations to the ceremony have been sent to chiefs of all foreign missions in Washington. There will be a special train from the capital to Hyde Park for the occasion.

Stanton said that approximately 100 positions, largely female, have been filled by the Kingston office. There has been no change in the original G.E. request for 300 women and 30 male employees, Stanton said.

Mr. Stanton branded as pure hearsay a recently published report that officials of the Lackawanna water works project had contacted his office to set up job applications.

"Nobody knows when they are going to start, what type of workers they will need or what their plans are," Stanton emphasized.

Application cards for employment now on file with the Kingston office of U.S.E.S., 243 Fair street, totaled 1518 on April 1, Mr. Stanton said.

Of this total, 1328 were males and 190 females. World War II veterans represented 905 or about 59 per cent of the total. Applications filed with the Kingston branch of U.S.E.S. totaled 254—187 males and 67 females.

The number of war veteran applicants in Kingston was 111.

In conformity with instructions from Washington designed to free U.S.E.S. personnel for as much application to field work as possible, Mr. Stanton has announced the creation of a new "skeleton" application card to be filled out in the following categories:

Unemployed insurance applicants filing original claims (complete applications are taken for these at the time of their first insurance reporting, which would be within a week or two).

Applicants over 65 where no work is presently available.

Applicants who have a job to report to within the next month.

Veterans who plan to start a business of their own in the near future.

Veterans who plan to start school within the next few weeks.

Workers who have been laid off temporarily (omit week workers).

Occasional workers in various occupational groups, such as musicians, actors, models, etc., where jobs in their line are seldom if ever, found in this area.

Shipments Are Ready

Marseille, April 8 (AP)—The first installment on a total of 500,000 tons of wheat which Soviet Russia has promised to deliver to France arrived here by ship yesterday and additional cargoes were reported today to be awaiting shipment from Odessa.

Deadline for filing the poll blanks now appearing in The Freeman is Wednesday, April 10. The blank appears in The Freeman today and tomorrow.

Escapes Unhurt When His Car Overturns

Frank Pase, 25, of Nanpanoch, recently discharged from the army, may consider himself lucky. Driving home on Route 209 about 3:45 this morning his Plymouth sedan left the road, crashed against the north corner of the house of Claude Tompkins in Wawarsing and turned upside down. Pase crawled out of a window of the car, unhurt.

Pase told Trooper Duffy of the Wurtburg station that his windshield was not clear and the lights of an approaching truck blinded him so that he lost control of the car and it left the highway.

Smoke Brings Firemen

An alarm of fire turned in from Box 3221, Hone and Hunter streets, at 6:58 o'clock this morning, called the fire department to 20 Hone street, where it was found that the tenant was burning wood in the furnace which caused a dense smoke to be emitted from the chimney. According to the fire department the smoke was seen by Louis Buchholz, who was passing, and thinking the house was on fire turned in the alarm.

Gun Club Meeting

A regular meeting of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club will be held at Rose Marie Cabins Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend as matters of importance will be discussed. Movies and refreshments will follow the business session.

About the Folks

A son was born to Sgt. and Mrs. Ralph J. Barrett Sunday morning at the Kingston Hospital. Mrs. Barrett was formerly Miss Amy Munn. Sergeant Barrett is serving with the Army Air Force and is now stationed at Buckley Field, Denver, Colo.

Funeral services for George B. Styles, veteran Kingston jeweler, were held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the W. N. Conner funeral home. They were very largely attended by many relatives and friends who paid this last tribute of respect to a lifelong resident and business man of Kingston. The services were conducted by the Rev. Edward Winder, pastor of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church and the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, pastor emeritus of the church. There were many beautiful floral pieces, a number of them being from organizations with which Mr. Styles had been affiliated and also from business associates. Friday evening at eight o'clock Masonic services were held at the funeral home by officers and members of Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A. M., conducted by Philip Kearney, master of the lodge. Burial was in the family plot in Wiltwyck Cemetery, committal services being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Winder and the Rev. Mr. Cole.

Andrew Ronk of Clintondale died Saturday morning in Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, after a short illness. He was 64 years of age. Mr. Ronk was born in the town of Plattkill, the son of Alexander and the late Nellie A. Fowler. He had lived in Plattkill Township all his life. For many years he was employed on the J. P. Hull farm in Clintondale. Besides his father he is survived by his wife, the former Lillian May Ellis Ronk; seven sons, Albert, Ralph and Herbert of New Paltz; Clarence of Highland, George and Myron of Clintondale; and Vernon of Astoria, L. I.; a daughter, Mrs. Tracy Atkins of Clintondale; 20 grandchildren; and four sisters, Mrs. Grace E. Dena; Mrs. Wesley Finch of Highland; Mrs. Daniel Ruley of Astoria; and Mrs. George E. Ronk of Marlborough and Frederick of Wadsworth. Mr. Ronk was a member of Friends Church of Clintondale and the Clinton Grange. Funeral services will be held this evening at 8 o'clock and Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered with burial in Mt. St. Alphonsus cemetery.

Mrs. Lizzie Roe, widow of Edward Roe died in this city on Friday. She was a sister of Frank, Julius, James and Frederick Kouhous of Kingston, and Mrs. Gusie Smith of New York city. Funeral from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, 296 Fair street, Tuesday, April 9, 1946, at 2 p. m. Interment in Montrepore cemetery.

Funeral services for George B. Styles, veteran Kingston jeweler, were held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the W. N. Conner funeral home. They were very largely attended by many relatives and friends who paid this last tribute of respect to a lifelong resident and business man of Kingston. The services were conducted by the Rev. Edward Winder, pastor of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church and the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, pastor emeritus of the church. There were many beautiful floral pieces, a number of them being from organizations with which Mr. Styles had been affiliated and also from business associates. Friday evening at eight o'clock Masonic services were held at the funeral home by officers and members of Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A. M., conducted by Philip Kearney, master of the lodge. Burial was in the family plot in Wiltwyck Cemetery, committal services being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Winder and the Rev. Mr. Cole.

Andrew Ronk of Clintondale died Saturday morning in Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, after a short illness. He was 64 years of age. Mr. Ronk was born in the town of Plattkill, the son of Alexander and the late Nellie A. Fowler. He had lived in Plattkill Township all his life. For many years he was employed on the J. P. Hull farm in Clintondale. Besides his father he is survived by his wife, the former Lillian May Ellis Ronk; seven sons, Albert, Ralph and Herbert of New Paltz; Clarence of Highland, George and Myron of Clintondale; and Vernon of Astoria, L. I.; a daughter, Mrs. Tracy Atkins of Clintondale; 20 grandchildren; and four sisters, Mrs. Grace E. Dena; Mrs. Wesley Finch of Highland; Mrs. Daniel Ruley of Astoria; and Mrs. George E. IMPORTANT COAST GUARD

In the midst of the hue and cry about the size of postwar army and navy, the Coast Guard has been quietly going about its regular peacetime work. While Congress and Washington gold braid argue about mergers, men and ships, the little service which fought with all the others, took part in every invasion, and still has thousands of its men busy bringing troops home, is back in its peacetime position under the Treasury Department, taking care of its normal chores.

The Coast Guard has its own problems, apart from those of the purely military services. Demobilization and slow recruiting are fast cutting the ranks, although the responsibilities have been expanded in recent years to include such activities as air-sea rescue operations, radar and loran stations, weather patrol and a merchant marine inspection.

On the Great Lakes, where the commercial shipping industry and more than 84,000 small boats are dependent upon Coast Guard services for their safety, the navigation season is opening with less than 40 per cent of the Lifeboat Stations named for rescue work. Twelve cutters lie idle for lack of men. Light-houses, buoys and other aids to navigation are given priority, but other services must be curtailed. The situation is similar on both seaboard and the Gulf of Mexico.

Coast Guard appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1946, are now under consideration by Congress. The service's future ability to assist people who use the waters of the United States, for business or pleasure, will depend largely on the decision of Congress on Coast Guard funds.

ROMANS LIKED IT, TOO

What's all this talk about horse shoe-pitching? The newspapers, the backyards, playgrounds and vacant lots are full of the subject. Championship games are played, and the scores and winners make headlines. Since Grandpa's time a farm yard pastime, it now has invaded New York City where courts are set up in the public parks. The horse shoe pitcher becomes an attraction at traveling carnivals, sportsmen's shows and town centennial celebrations, where the performer, clad in vaudevilian red tights and a flamboyant scarf makes ringers standing on his head, through a paper hoop and throwing backwards.

President Truman has had a stake pounded in the ground behind the Executive Mansion and he and his cronies have taken to making the iron shoes clink and clatter when internal issues or Russia's antics get too much for them. There's nothing new in the game. The Romans invented it as a means of using the shoes their blooded steeds knocked off their feet during chariot races along the Appian Way. So, let's go, boys, and see how many ringers can be scored up in the long spring twilight.

CURRENT VACCINATIONS

Five persons died of smallpox in Seattle recently, and the city took immediate action with a vaccination program by which 15,000 residents a day are now being vaccinated. In San Francisco about half the population has been vaccinated in the last few weeks, and other west coast cities are following suit, as fast as sufficient vaccine is available.

Smallpox cases have been rare in most communities in recent years. Vaccinations and public health programs have been effective in greatly reducing the danger of getting the disease. But with United States troops returning from all over the world, it is almost impossible to prevent some carrying of smallpox, despite the vigilance of service medical staffs.

There is no cause for any panic. Nowhere have smallpox cases reached epidemic numbers. But it is a wise time for people to check on vaccination dates and talk to the family doctor about renewing the protection.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

FACTS IS FACTS

That was a very optimistic statement of the President and Mr. John Snyder that reconversion has jumped the hump, that we are producing $150,000,000,000 of industrial goods, and that all that needs to be done is to keep the O.P.A. going and the bands will play—that there will undoubtedly be pie in the sky by and by.

Let us look at a few figures. With 1923 as 100, the cost of living in the United States reached 107.1 in December, 1945—the highest point since January, 1921. Do you remember the outcry against H.C.L. in those days? This figure means a rise of 24.5 per cent above January, 1941, the base month of the Little Steel Formula. The increase in food prices between January, 1941, and December, 1945, amounted to 46 per cent—and it is about 49 per cent now. And it is rising very rapidly in spite of Chester Bowles' ceiling prices and the O.P.A. shenanigans.

And if you will get the Federal Reserve Bulletin for March, 1946, on the very first page you will see a graph which completely disproves Mr. Snyder's optimistic statement. That graph shows the usual tobogganing of production after a war and the line on the graph goes down almost vertically. It is true that production is substantially above the 1935-1939 average. But you may recall that this country was in a depression in those years during which, according to government figures, there was an average unemployment of 10,000,000 every year.

Now, I do not know what Mr. Snyder means by $150,000,000,000. What kind of dollars? Does he mean 1923 dollars or 1946 dollars? If he means a January, 1941 dollar, the base of the "Little Steel Formula," the dollars are altogether different in value. Furthermore, what share of that $150,000,000,000 is represented by taxes to be collected by government out of production? Taxes are a cost of living—they are an expense. What share of Mr. Snyder's figure then is not productivity at all, but actual excess cost of operations through taxes?

Had Mr. Snyder given us some figures showing volume and velocity of production instead of depreciated dollar values, we might have had a figure to work with. It is difficult to understand why any government official would issue such a statement devoid of clarity, based upon estimates.

The real test is: Go get yourself an automobile, a new refrigerator, a fine new radio. Build yourself a new house. Get some piping to improve your household plumbing. Try to open a new business, something small that does not involve a couple of million dollars R.F.C. loan. Go buy yourself a new suit, something made of decent cloth. Throw a party and put big gobbs of butter on the table.

Mr. Snyder apparently believes that all this is here or at most around the corner. But these things are not around any corner I hear anything about.

Let's stop talking about those billions—all I want is a pocket radio to take with me on a train. There's an order in with a deposit put down, since Christmas. I'll let John Snyder hold on to his $150,000,000,000 estimate—but what about that pocket radio?

Look, John, facts is facts! When can I get that little radio? Also, do you think that butter really has to be about $1.00 a pound around the parts of the world where I live? And if I have to go down on my hands and knees to buy a little? And does it have to be explained to me that it is better to eat ice-cream because, on account of the O.P.A., it is sounder business to make and sell ice-cream, than to make and sell butter? Butter? Let them eat ice-cream! What a campaign slogan!

Too bad, John! I thought you were a first-class, honest-to-goodness business man who could read figures. Whoever put that phony pie-in-the-sky statement over on you, sure tried hard to mix us all up with that figure of $150,000,000,000. It sounded like Henry Wallace off on a statistical spree, or Henry Morgenthau using big numbers to sound like a big man.

SKIN TESTS

Less than twenty years ago a physician doing special work in allergy was using about 25 different substances in testing for allergy. Today the number of substances used by this physician is several hundred.

Generally speaking when the eating of a certain food brings out hives, eczema or other skin disturbance a few hours afterwards, or is followed by a head cold or stomach upset, it is definite proof that the individual is allergic or sensitive to that food.

One of the foods that does not often cause allergic symptoms is lamb or mutton, in fact it is one of the foods that is used as a control to cause allergic symptoms and to lamb is added one other food at each meal following, until the food causing symptoms is finally found. There are of course many in whom lamb and mutton do cause symptoms.

An interesting fact about a food which actually causes symptoms yet the test of this substance does not show the individual to be allergic to this food or other substance is pointed out by Dr. P. Blumenthal in Medical Press, Paris. It has been found that it is not the food itself that causes the symptoms but the product of the food after it has been acted on by digestive juices. He describes studies on a patient aged 34 who for about ten years had had attacks of hives (urticaria) with swelling of the face every time he ate lamb or mutton. The attack appeared five or six hours after the meat had been eaten. All skin tests with lamb or mutton caused no symptoms; that is the patient was negative.

When a sample of the food was treated with stomach (gastric) juice the test was negative but when the food was treated with stomach digestive juice and also the other digestive juices—bile and pancreatic juice—the hives appeared showing patient positive.

This means that we may not be sensitive to a food itself, but may be sensitive or positive to that same food once it has been acted on by digestive juices. This will explain why skin tests sometimes fail to find the food causing symptoms.

scenes the bomb "sees" can be flashed back to some one on the ground or on an auxiliary observation plane. Does this mean there is going to be less need of photographers in the world? Ever since the Industrial Revolution the threat of unemployment has hung over society, and now along comes a bomb to add to the poor workman's worries.

Not that news photographers seem anxious. The public desire for pictures and more pictures seems insatiable.

New Garden Huckleberry Is Easy to Grow

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

IF YOU LIKE huckleberry pie you can grow your own this year, and without any trouble.

Among the novelty plants for 1946 is a new garden huckleberry which produces a fruit similar to but larger than the common huckleberry or blueberry as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

This newcomer is related to the tomato family. It bears bunches of blackberries, one-half inch in diameter, as illustrated.

It is an annual and grown from seed each year but is very prolific, yielding an abundance of fruit which will remain on the plant two months after they are ripe.

and preserves and when cooked with apples, lemon or other sour fruit, make the finest jelly.

To serve in pie or sauce, garden huckleberries should be sweetened with a syrup made of one part sugar to three parts water. As these berries lack acidity, add lemon juice or cook with sour apples, or rhubarb.

The plants are upright and branching and grow to a height of three feet. Cultivation is the same as with the tomato.

There is also a new post-war tomato called the Victor. It is an early variety of high quality. This new variety is a valuable addition to the home garden because it produces its smooth bright scarlet fruits earlier than nearly any other variety.

Extension of Draft Law Offers Tough Political Subject for Those in Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 8—Congress has been dithering along on the matter of extending the draft law. This being a political year, the members do not like to face the antagonism of the families affected.

The draft has never been an easy issue to meet politically. This why even during the war emergency, but before Pearl Harbor, the House of Representatives in 1941 came within one vote of abandoning the statute.

The United States Army, however, is confronted today not with a theory but a condition. It isn't a question of whether young men or middle-aged or any one class should be drafted but what shall be done to get the requisite number for overseas duty and for training.

Under the leadership of Secretary of War Patterson, the Army has endeavored to set forth its minimum requirements. General Eisenhower vouches for the figures needed for the Army and Ground Forces and General Spaatz has calculated what the Air Forces will require.

The goal is to reduce the entire Army and Air Forces to about 1,070,000 men by July 1947. This is about what the War Department feels is its minimum requirement. Out of this total, the Air Forces want 400,000 men.

The figures for the Air Forces particularly are reasonable considering the importance of air power today. The total of 1,070,000 is not large for a transition period nor is it big compared to the forces maintained by Russia, which are believed to be at least five times that number.

The War Department has been accused of trying to use the extension of the draft as the entering wedge for conscription. There appears to be no basis for such a suspicion. Thus Secretary Patterson has said that he has no objection to a proviso in the extension of the draft law which states that as long as personnel requirements are being met by the volunteer system, nobody shall be inducted.

The truth is the presence of the draft law acts as a stimulant to recruiting. The young man who is inducted under the draft law cannot be sure of the length of time he will be in service. The volunteers have the advantage of being able to specify eighteen months as the limit of their service.

The Army chiefs think that as long as they have the draft law on the statute books, they can fill quotas by volunteers. Physical standards have been lowered and the 4-F must really be physically handicapped to be rejected nowadays.

The War Department has been up against a charge that the extension of the draft law is related to its proposal for universal military training. The answer to this is that under none of the bills providing for military training can any boys be sent out of the country, or made a part of the Regular Army.

Why does the Army want a total of 1,070,000 by July 1947? The answer is that the tasks assigned to the Army include duty in occupied countries, both in Europe and the Far East, as well as the maintenance of a trained Air Force for national defense. Likewise it would appear that, in order to make available for the use of the United Nations in emergencies, a substantial force of the United States must be ready to send an overseas expedition to help maintain order and prevent the development of another world war.

The size of the Army—namely, 1,070,000—is predicated on the idea that a peace treaty will be concluded that U.N.O. will be effective, and that occupation tasks will not soon be finished but will require at least two or three years.

Sentiment on Capitol Hill has been cool to the idea of extending the Selective Service law, but it is veering toward the adoption of a law to prolong the term of the draft to a level in the spring of 1947. It is probable that boys who have just become 18 will be included within the draft as of the day the law is passed. Draft quotas, however, will be low if volunteers enlist in adequate numbers. BETTER AND FREER RADIO HINDERED AGAIN

Suppose a Commission of the United States Government dominated by the hired publicity men of the political party which happened to be in office were to make a ruling that newspapers had to be printed on presses of a certain size and suppose such a ruling put out of business four-fifths of the newspapers in the United States, making it a simple matter to frighten, regulate and dominate the remainder? You would begin to get excited about the freedom of the press, wouldn't you?

This is very much what has happened to radio, right under your nose and mine, and although it is generally conceded that radio is entitled to all the rights of free speech untrammelled by officialdom, still radio does not seem to come under the same constitutional protections that have kept our press from being arbitrarily made an instrument of political tyranny.

Ruling party bureaucracy has ways to strike body blows at the freedom of radio which you and I, simple citizens who are not experts in electronics, know nothing about. But these things may affect our lives as much as tricks invented by Mussolini. Hitler, or Stalin affected the lives of the people, unless we get wise and put our collective feet down on collectivism. These cuts tricks not only strike at American liberty, but at the same time deprive us of the very best in radio listening value. When Americans can't have the best in science or mechanical gadgets, it is likely to make them angry.

For a while you heard a great deal about a kind of radio known as Frequency Modulation, or just F. M. The stations which compose the four networks to which you are now on broadcast on a type of air wave called A. M. for Amplitude Modulation network and independent stations altogether numbered only 945 at the last count. 680 of these belonged to the four networks, which have grown great and wealthy, but which are in constant fear of being upset by the Federal Communication Commission, and therefore do their best to please the powers that be.

Then came the war, and F. M. had to be put off. But why don't we have it now? Well, I'll tell you—but I didn't know, myself, until one of the leading producers of radio equipment in America told me the other day! One bureau, on a bureau called the Radio Technical Planning Board, which is the child of F. M. which controls radio, blew F. M. and all of its listening advantages and prospects of freedom from control so sky high that you and I aren't getting our nice new F. M. radio sets anywhere in the near future—maybe not until the land becomes a totalitarian warfare state, and radio is definitely under state control. I'll tell you how the deed was done in my next.

Cold Weather, Lower Hudson Nets Put Brake on Kingston Shad Run

Fish Trucked Into City Give Competition to Fishermen in This Area of Valley

The shad is making its annual river run to the spawning grounds near Barrytown, but not in the plentiful droves generally associated with this time of the season, local fishermen reported today.

This seasonal occupation to bag the favorite food fish for the entire valley—the Hudson river shad—is attracting fishermen in unusually large numbers, but as yet the catches have been sub-normal.

Vince Van Bramer, local shad dealer who fingers the pulse of shad fishermen fortunes pretty well, attributes the scarcity of shad to the extremely cold and windy weather.

"Most of the established fishermen are having a tough time at present," Van Bramer said today, "but the catches will be stepped up with the advent of warmer weather."

Van Bramer revealed that the practice of stringing stage nets across the Hudson River at the George Washington bridge also is raising havoc with local fishermen. This practice was abolished during the war, but was resumed this season.

Many Shad Blocked
"A lot of shad are blocked by those nets," Van Bramer said, "and the only time the shad get through toward the spawning grounds is on Friday noon and Saturday midnight when the nets are lifted according to state fishing laws."

Retarding of the local season by bad weather has resulted in outside competition for local commercial fishermen. Shad is now being trucked to the Kingston markets from areas below Peekskill where conditions are more favorable to shad runs.

Like every phase of the fisherman's pursuits, shad fishing has its traditional names along the Rondout and Kingston waterfronts. Perhaps the best known shad fisherman of the area is Tony Alecca of the Kingston Point. Tony's shad exploits have become legend among local fishermen.

Louis Naccarato, of Kingston, is another shad catcher of renown. Naccarato is credited unofficially with an all-time Kingston record of 387 shad in one catch. This was established last season when the annual run was decidedly below normal. No official records are kept in this competition and there is a possibility that this record bag may have been exceeded at some time or other during the season.

Behind Alecca and Naccarato are such worthies as Pete and Ted Lemister, who work as a team; Charlie Dasher, A. Adams, Nick Lemister, George Van Steenberg and a host of others. Farther up the Hudson, at Ulster Landing, Frank Fabiano and sons hold forth.

COOKED A FINE DINNER; THEN THREW IT TO DOG

One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of bloated, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman" since taking this New Compound.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores here in Kingston.

and they have been credited with some remarkable catches.

Rough Going
Several of the local fishermen have shacks built along the waterfront from which they make three or four trips a day to the "middle grounds" where the shad flourish. The going has been rough during the past few days and there have been reports of near-swampings but there is nothing more intrepid than a shad fisherman.

Catches of seven and eight pound shad, an obsession with some connoisseurs of Hudson river delicacies, have been reported but the average is about five pounds. The male shad, known as bucks, average much smaller than the females, two and one-half to three pounds. The early run of fish, while the water is yet cold, are by far the more succulent.

Early Catches Best
There is no better fish than an April or early May roe shad, freshly caught and baked perfectly in an electric oven, according to Julian Burroughs, of West Park, grandson of the famous naturalist, John Burroughs.

"The fault of the shad," says Mr. Burroughs, is that they are so delicate and perishable, so quickly losing both their flavor and iridescent tints. The June shad are so often thin and poor. Like "the last run of shad" was a common by-word to describe anything that was poor and scrawny.

Vets Swell Ranks
An increased number of commercial shad fishermen is evident this season. A number of returned war veterans have joined the ranks for the season while it is on.

If records for the past few seasons hold up, the shad haul for 1946 should show an increase. Weather conditions, of course, will be the determining factor.

The State Conservation Commission which regulates the shad season and protects the source from complete exploitation and exhaustion reports the 1945 shad catch in New York state was 2,167,540 pounds, a gain of 48,849 pounds over 1944. These figures compare with the 24,029 pounds taken by commercial netters in 1915 when the fish had almost disappeared.

Escapement Period
Under state regulations netters are barred from the river each week of the season from Friday noon until Saturday midnight. This escapement period is designed to permit enough fish access to spawning grounds. The spawning grounds extending toward Barrytown from Kingston Point are barred to fishermen. Commercial netters also are restricted on the number, size and type of nets they may use.

The shad may be found and taken anywhere from Highbridge, opposite the Palisades, to the spawning grounds off Kingston toward Barrytown. That is, of course, if one knows where to find them. The Hudson river has a tricky bottom and apparently no one knows it better than the shad.

Want Clean Water
One can hardly consider himself a full-blooded Hudson valley citizen if he hasn't tasted the luscious shad. And if you have, you need have no worries about his habits.

"The shad won't come in unless the water is right," Lou Naccarato says. Naccarato referred to the shad trait of not entering the river until the spring freshet is out and the water has ceased to be "riley."

"They also like to come in on a full moon and so they should have started running heavily about April 1," Naccarato continued, "but you know the weather has been very bad the past few days."

A shad won't swim in riled up water, according to Tony Alecca. "The shad you know," Alecca volunteers in the river-wise fashion attesting his reputation, "has very sensitive gills and swimming in riled water does a lot of grit in the gills when he breathes and he doesn't like it."

Not many people realize it, but the shad is a veritable streak of light in salt water and can work up a pretty fair head of steam if needs be. But once in fresh water, the shad becomes a dawdler, making about seven miles a day in the travel up to the spawning grounds.

A Real Treat
Fishermen speak with unblushing enthusiasm about the succulence of the shad. They'll tell you bluntly that nothing in the water tops it, either in food value or just as plain fish.

"The shad," Alecca says, "is the cleanest thing that swims. In the river it carries its own food with it—getting nourishment from a substance in secrets in the stomach. In salt water, the shad obtains nourishment only from a substance it secretes in it."

Proof of this, Alecca points out, is that a shad cannot be taken on a hook and line and he defies anyone to attempt it. There could be a million shad out in the Hudson, he declares, and not a single one would look at a hook. Another reason is that the shad run pretty close to the bottom and netting them is the only practical method of snaring them.

Return to Same River
With amazing intuition, shad return only to the river in which they were spawned. They travel in fairly large schools, depending on the size of the run and remain in the river until well into the summer. The general fishing season terminates about June 1. Some shad catches have been reported in late fall, but they are the exception.

When the shad start moving for home though, they go out pretty fast. Only a few tides and the river is clear," Alecca says.

Greater Demand
Demand for Hudson River shad is greater today than ever before. This is due not only because more people have come to know and like the fish, but also because it is possible now to keep the fish under deep freeze conditions.

Frozen shad is considered just as good as when taken out of the water and is used considerably in diets at many hospitals.

Can Be Bored
Fred Polhamus, noted Poughkeepsie shad expert, recently chided persons who don't relish shad because of its bony structure.

"A shad properly filleted," Polhamus says, "can be broiled or pan fried and give not the least trouble to the most fastidious of the bone-shy. Of course filleting the fish is something of an art, I'll admit, but I hold that a few bones should not stand in the way of a real treat in fish eating."

WEST HURLEY

West Hurley, April 4—The annual Red Cross drive, Mrs. Michael Joyce, chairman, has drawn to a successful conclusion having exceeded its quota. The success of the drive was due to the following workers: Mrs. Clarence Ostrander, Mrs. William McNamee, Mrs. Anna McAuliffe, Mrs. Iven Freer, Mrs. James Stoutenburgh, Mrs. Henry Robinson, Miss Sarah Allen, Clayton Vredenburg, Herbert Glass, John H. Saxe and John Fitzsimmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Morris left Sunday morning for Philadelphia where Mr. Morris will enter Temple University.

Mrs. Everett Hammond and son, Jon, of Paterson, N. J., spent several days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Buley.

The P.U.G.S. Girls' Club met at the home of Miss Eleanor Vredenburg on March 25. At this meeting it was decided that the club would be host to the returned service men at a dance soon after Easter.

The annual appeal for Catholic Charities is now under way with Paul Joyce as lay chairman. The redecoration of the interior of the West Hurley post office has been completed.

Monday night, April 1, the P.U.G.S. Girls' Club met at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Ryan, and the date for the service men's dance was set for April 26. The William Dodd band will furnish music for dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Stathis and Nicholas Poulos were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Joyce.

Eugene Ostrander is ill with a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Morris, Mrs. Everett Hammond and son, Jon, were luncheon guests last Saturday for Mrs. Robert Buley at Glenford.

Mrs. William McNamee is spending several days in Binghamton.

MODENA

Modena, April 6—There was a record attendance at the dance, sponsored by the Modena Fire Department at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Modena school was closed Monday, when Teachers Miss Catherine Tighue and Mrs. Doris Hadley attended Teachers' Conference at the State College in New Paltz. Shelby Harcourt, Kathryn Kalamucki and Philip Rappelyea, local students, assisted in the program of entertainment presented at the conference.

Miss Mary Ella Ward has returned home from St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, where she was a patient for several days.

Myron Miller of Hauppauge, L. I., accompanied his mother, Mrs. Anna Miller, to her home here on Saturday. Mrs. Myron Miller and son, Myron, Jr., visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frumerie at Pawling on route.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wager and daughter, Edith, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ransel Wager on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy DuBois and daughter, Marylou, visited Mrs. Martha Brandon and son, John, at Towners on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peppe Rosende and daughters, Maria, Dolores and Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Henie Lampe and daughter, Lorraine, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Muzethras on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Lloyd, Mrs. Harry Gerow of New Paltz were among visitors of A. D. Wager and daughter on Sunday.

Phyllis Paltridge, Phyllis Winters, Jane Rippey and Ronald Wahl, all of Modena, were among students of the 7A Social Study Class of the Walkkill Central School, who enjoyed a bus trip to Washington's Headquarters in Newburgh recently.

The Modena Fire Department was called out about 3 a. m. on Sunday, when a car of Vincent Johnston was completely destroyed by fire. The car was in close proximity to the home of Harry Elting and family, and threatened to destroy the building. Sunday afternoon, an alarm was sent in as a fire by the railroad tracks was becoming dangerous.

Many local people attended the public sale of F. DuBois at Gardiner on Thursday.

Mrs. Deits and daughter of Brooklyn were visitors of friends here on Saturday.

Barbara DuBois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon DuBois of this section, has been selected as salutatorian of the 1946 graduating class of the Walkkill Central School.

Methodist, Young Married Couples of Modena and Clintondale have organized a club. The first meeting was held Friday evening of the past week at the Modena Methodist parsonage. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. J. Leonard Coy, Jr.; vice president, Wilfred Doolittle; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Melvin Thorne. Topical Bible studies will be the features of the meeting sessions.

The Modena 4-H Club met Saturday at the home of the local leader, Mrs. Marian Jensen, and was attended by J. J. and Harriet Wells, Marlene Palmer, Roselyn and Marian DeWitt, Jane Eckert, Agnes Ronk, Gail Grimm, Kathryn and Jane Rippey, Ellen Gierisch, Doris Niddie and Kathryn Kalamucki were to attend an egg demonstration in Kingston, and on Saturday, April 13, a meeting will be held in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. A sewing project will be in session.

New Controls Found
Indian and Allied physicians working on the Indo-Burmese border during wartime developed several measures which will profoundly affect future military malaria control, Bombay reports. Discoveries include: Use of suppressive mepacrine; introduction of DDT to enable complete control of larger areas than for mepacrine, and use of repellent fishnets to protect patrols and troops in contact with the enemy. For such troops malaria has in the past been difficult or impossible to prevent. The report was issued by M. K. Afridi, O.B.E., consultant malariologist.

Commerce Department Aide Will Discuss Future Planning

W. Dale Swartzmiller, manager of the Kingston Regional office of the New York State Department of Commerce, will speak to the officers, directors, members and prospective members of the Town of Esopus Chamber of Commerce at a meeting called for Wednesday evening, April 10, at 8 o'clock at the town hall in Port Ewen.

At a recent meeting Ed Huben spoke to the members on the benefits which could be derived by a township organization and through publicizing the advantages of the township, both from a recreational as well as an industrial viewpoint. As a result the newly formed Chamber of Commerce is now proceeding with the publication of a township folder in which will be outlined the town of Esopus advantages as an industrial and also recreational locality.

Wednesday evening Mr. Swartzmiller will discuss the problem of planning for the future along the recreational line, pointing out what has been accomplished in other communities and what can be done in Esopus. He will also speak on the program of the state in publicizing the region.

All officers and directors are urged to attend this meeting as well as members and an invitation is extended to prospective members who may become members at that time.

At the time Mr. Huben spoke he pointed out the program which was being carried out by the Ulster-Greene County Vacationland movement and placed it before the members as a proposal that the township join in the movement and add its enthusiasm to this successful movement in which so many of the local townships have joined to bring about the present success of the movement.

The Town of Esopus Chamber of Commerce officers and directors have formed a program of procedure which will include publicizing both the recreational and industrial advantages of the township and that will be discussed at the meeting Wednesday.

A complete list of the officers and directors of the newly formed Chamber of Commerce of the township of Esopus is:

President, Thomas Bohan; vice president, F. Joseph Bequent; vice president, Charles Elmendorf; secretary, Alice Tinnie; treasurer, Raymond Howe; honorary chairman, Roscoe V. Elsworth; directors: Riffon, Ernest Frost, Lambert Decker, Connelly, Thomas Morrisey, Joseph Dulin; St. Remy, Harry Ellsworth, Alfred Stricker; Port Ewen, John T. Groves, Lester O. Ferguson, Harry C. Jump, Herman Sturges; Ulster Park, Everett Soper, Holt Winfield, Henry Cameron; Esopus, John O. Beaver, Wilson LeFever; West Park, Ildo Brogiu, Joseph Valli.

Endeavor Convention Is Scheduled in July

The New York State Christian Endeavor Union will hold its Victory Convention at Silver Bay on Lake George, New York from July 6 to 9. The selection of the location of the 53rd convention of the organization has just been announced by Miss Hilda C. Appelbaum of Staten Island, state union president.

"Enlist for Christ" is the theme for the three-day meeting. The opening session will be held on Saturday evening. The schedule for Sunday will include group conferences, a missionary presentation, and a music appreciation program in the evening. Additional conferences and an evening program stressing citizenship will feature the program Monday. The program on Tuesday will include the closing sessions of the group conferences, a business session, the election and installation of the state union officers, and the closing inspirational address.

Eugene G. Alhart of Rochester, state union vice-president, is the general convention chairman. George R. Wells of Glens Falls is chairman of the program committee. The following persons are assisting Mr. Wells: Miss Florence M. Raber of Richmond Hill; Mrs. Ann Anker of Troy; Miss Lillian Zimmer of Buffalo; Miss Dorothy Place of Otego; and Milton G. Ballard of Lynbrook.

A state-wide registration contest for the convention has been started under the direction of Mr. Alhart and Miss Elizabeth Masarech of Tarrytown, state office secretary. Commemorative awards will be presented to individuals, societies and county union groups. Registration and reservation details will be handled through the state union office in Tarrytown.

Sign Believer

Milwaukee, Wis., April 8 (AP)—Kenny Kipen, 6, who had gone to play with his friend, Scotty Kuesel, came running back because, "there was a sign on the door."

"Did it say m-e-a-s-u-r-e?" his mother asked Kenny, who is learning his letters but can't read. Kenny couldn't remember so he hurried over to Scotty's house again, this time with pencil and paper to make a laboriously printed copy of the sign. It read: "Please Wipe Your Feet."

Cat Climb

Joliet, Ill., April 8 (AP)—George Langford went up a tree after a cat, but the higher George went the higher the cat climbed.

After four days of this, Langford prevailed upon Will County Sheriff Ralph H. Newkirk. The sheriff wasn't able to entice the cat either but he called upon Steve Pasco, 21, a trusty, in jail for stealing poultry.

Pasco made short work of rescuing the cat, which scurried away

to freedom, while Pasco went back to jail.

X-rays Are Planned

Syracuse, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—The student body, faculty and administrative personnel of Syracuse University will be X-rayed beginning Wednesday. The X-rays, to be taken at the rate of nearly 1,000 a day, are expected to provide statistical information in the national program for control of tuberculosis. They are being taken with the cooperation of the district office of the State Health Department and the Onondaga County Health Association.

EVERY WOMAN SHOULD BE TOLD -

Women who douche should certainly know about this effective "bacteriostatic" douche which Lydia E. Pinkham's SANITARY WASH now offers. Hospital tests have already proved it wonderfully effective for vaginal cleanliness. Sanitary Wash has been especially developed to check growth of the more vulnerable germs, relieve odor, itching and minor discharge. So wonderfully cleansing, soothing, deodorizing. Positively won't irritate. All drugstores.

'Y' Gold Medal Cage Tourney Finals Slated Here Tuesday Night

Locals-Newburgh To Vie for Honors In Main Attraction

Margaretville and Cairo Meet for Third Place at 8 P. M.; Awards Will Follow Games

With two outstanding games scheduled, the Y.M.C.A. Gold Medal Basketball Tournament swings into the homestretch Tuesday night at the "Y" boards when the big double-header will bring together the Newburgh Caravan Clippers and the Kingston Y.M.C.A. and the Margaretville and Cairo American Legion quintets. Lou Schaffer, tournament director, expects a year's biggest turnout at the twin ball clubs.

The biggest attraction of the evening barring nothing is the Newburgh-Kingston struggle which goes on the boards at 9 o'clock. On the basis of Newburgh's triumph in the Orange-Sullivan County League and the Newburgh City League, the visitors from the Hilly City will enter Tuesday's clash as favorites. On the other hand the local cagers are primed for this big battle and may prove to be a tough nut to crack with the chips down.

Newburgh, with such luminaries as Sammy Inzeria, George Kohler, Ed Plus, Rudy Copecetti, Crawford, Rudy Havens and Laubenhimer, must be considered the favorite. All of these basketballers saw action in the DUSO League in other years and fans will attest that they formed quite a ball club for the Newburgh Free Academy.

Coach Joe Blass, who has taken over the reins from Schaffer during the tournament, is confident that his boys will come through in this big test. "We may not be as strong as Newburgh in some departments," Blass admitted, "but we do have a good scoring punch headed by Eddie Weaver and on this alone I think our chances for a victory Tuesday are good." On the 1945-46 season the Y.M.C.A. cagers have won approximately 80% of their games and that's an enviable record in any man's circuit.

First at 8 P. M.

The consolation game which takes the "Y" boards at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening should prove interesting to local fandom. Both the Margaretville and Cairo aggregations, who will battle for third place in the tournament, have made fine showings in the playoffs to date and local fans can be assured that some more top-notch basketball will be on the menu when these two teams collide.

Two players from the Margaretville-Cairo clubs have thus far gained the eye of judges in their selections for top men in the tournament. Boggs of Margaretville is the tournament's top scorer to date with 52 points while Swilpa of Cairo has netted 45. They'll see action against each other tomorrow. Other top scorers are Howie Havens of Newburgh 44, Ed Weaver, Kingston 41, Sammy Inzeria and George Kohler, Newburgh, 41, and 40; Brainard, Cairo 36.

Judges for the tournament will make their awards to teams and individual players immediately following Tuesday's brace of games, it was announced. Presentations will be made on the gymnasium floor.

Big Summer Sports Program for Veterans

Approximately 5,000 veterans in New York's eight Veterans Administration hospitals are expected to participate in a summer sports program which will range from lawn bowling to baseball, according to O. A. Gottschalk, deputy veterans administrator for New York.

More than $30,000 worth of sports equipment is being distributed, physical directors are being appointed to hospital staffs and physical facilities are being prepared for the first large scale, organized athletic program ever to be offered hospitalized veterans.

Physically handicapped men will be able to play such games as lawn bowling, croquet and horseshoes while the more active will compete on baseball, softball, golf, tennis, volleyball and badminton teams. Competition among hospitalized employees is scheduled because of its spectator interest to men who are too ill to take an active part in the program.

Baseball Briefs

Gordon Rejoins Yanks
Nashville, Tenn., April 8 (AP)—Jumping Joe Gordon, stellar second-baseman, has rejoined the New York Yankees and expects to break into the lineup Friday when the Bombers play the Dodgers in Brooklyn. Gordon was spiked on the left middle finger in St. Petersburg several weeks ago and has been out of action since.

Cooper Stays Behind
Hickory, N. C., April 8 (AP)—Walker Cooper, the New York Giants' $175,000 catcher just out of the Navy, booked up with the club at Jacksonville, Fla., but did not make the trip here for a game with Cleveland. He will work out at Jacksonville until Thursday with Jersey City, the Giants' International League farm.

Lippy Optimistic
Nashville, Tenn., April 8 (AP)—Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher is taking an optimistic pitching plan for the next five games against the New York Yankees. Starting with Ralph Branca today, Durocher is hoping to send five hurlers the full distance. Bratten will be followed by Joe Hatten, Hank Behnman, Jean Pierre Roy and Hal Gregg in that order.

Newhouse Nurses Neck
Et. Knox, Ky., April 8 (AP)—Hal Newhouse, Detroit Tiger mound ace, nursed a stiff neck today when he formed quite a ball club for the Newburgh Free Academy.

Series Gets Closer
Oklahoma City, Okla., April 8 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox and the Pittsburgh Pirates brought their cross-country exhibition series into Oklahoma City today with the Pirates holding a 13-11 edge in the 24 games already played despite yesterday's double victory by the White Sox.

Muncie Fractures Toe
Tulsa, Okla., April 8 (AP)—Although beating the St. Louis Browns, 10-7, the National League champion Chicago Cubs left 15 players stranded on the sacks yesterday. The Browns' Vern Stephens, who came back from the Mexican League Saturday, hit a three-run homer. Bob Muncie, St. Louis pitcher, fractured his toe stopping a line drive and will be out of action for at least a month.

Mickey Owen Less Talkative About Jumping to Mexico

Former Dodger Catcher Plans Workout With Toledo; 'Anything Can Happen'

San Antonio, Texas, April 8 (AP)—Former Brooklyn catcher Mickey Owen says he will work out for a few days with the Toledo Mudhens here, but he would give no hint today as to his plans to join the Mexican Baseball League.

Pasquel May Sue
Meanwhile, another major league shortstop, Vern Stephens, recuperated from the Mexican circuit by the St. Louis Browns, says he won't lose any sleep over a threat by Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican League, to sue him for $100,000 damages for "breaking his contract."

"Pasquel is just trying to scare the players he now has down there so they won't leave his league," was Stephens' comment in Dallas yesterday.

Owen arrived here yesterday a lot less talkative about whether he will join the spotlighted Mexican league than he was a week ago when he announced after his release from the navy that he would sign a five-year contract as playing manager for the Torreon Club in that circuit.

"Anything can happen while I am here," he said when asked if the contract with Torreon would be signed while he is in San Antonio. "At present I have no definite plans other than to work out with Toledo for the next few days."

Expects Owen Today
Owen, 30, had been working for the Dodgers under a three-year contract which would have expired in 1945. However, he went into the navy last year before the contract ran out.

Alfonso Pasquel, an official of the Mexican League, said earlier in Nuevo Laredo, just across the border, he expected Owen there today.

Stephens, who stayed in the Mexican League long enough for only a fair warm-up, showed up in San Antonio Friday night. He said he had left the Mexican League at Monterrey in a hurry. "I played a game in Mexico City and then when I was supposed to go on the road, Pasquel said I should sign a contract," related Stephens. "I signed it with the idea that when I got close enough to the border I would leave. I didn't tell anyone my intentions because I was afraid they might do something to me."

Doesn't Like Country
"I signed a contract with Pasquel that said either party could terminate it at any time. I telephoned Pasquel after getting to Texas and had the conversation recorded," Stephens declared. "I told him what the contract stipulated and he agreed with me. The baseball player said he was

Syracuse Bowler Slams 576 to Top Class A Singles; Rochester Top in Doubles

Albany, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—Bowlers from the central and western part of the state today dominated the top standings in the 13th Annual New York Women's Bowling Association tournament at nearby Menands.

The tournament recessed early today after week-end competition. Play will be resumed next week-end.

Margaret Hildenberg, Syracuse, topped the pins for 576 to grab the Class A singles leadership.

Pacing the Class A doubles were Madeline Gwendolyn Buys, of Rochester, with 1079.

Officers were elected at the association's annual meeting Saturday. Iola F. Lasher of Albany was reelected president. Aileen Sheldon of Malone was named sergeant-at-arms and Theresa Breze, Binghamton, Ermine Mulholland, Albany, and Frances Gray, Rochester, were elected to the executive board. Ruth C. Hunzinger, Whitesboro, was named delegate to the Women's International Bowling Congress convention at Kansas City, Mo.

Grid Eagles Sign Steve Van Buren

Led N. F. L. in Ground Gaining Last Year

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—Steve Van Buren, called by many one of the greatest football backs in professional football history, was under contract today to play three more years with the Philadelphia Eagles.

The signing of the speedy Louisiana University flash yesterday terminated rumors that Van Buren would quit the Eagles for more cash in the All-America Conference. Terms were not announced.

Van Buren led the National Football League last season in ground gaining, scoring and kick-off handling.

Hints on Golf Begin Today

Beginning today The Freeman is publishing a new series of a sports feature entitled "Better Golf" by Sam Snead. It is hoped that the forthcoming installments will be of as much help to the readers as the past feature on "Better Bowling" by Billy Sixty. (Editor's Note).

By SAM SNEAD

Pictured are some important points of the golf swing seldom illustrated. Figure one is a back view. It shows clearly that this golfer has failed to pivot his shoulders far enough to bring the golf shaft in parallel with the desired line of flight. This is a serious flaw in the mechanics of his swing. The result would be that this player would swing the clubhead into the ball outside-in across the direction line, instead of slightly inside-out. Fix this point in your memory. Now note Figure No. 2. The path traveled by the clubhead illustrates the player swinging outside-in across the direction line. One of two things will happen. The ball will travel straight off line to the left or, if the player's hands are slightly in front of the club head at impact, the ball will slice. Swing inside-out with all clubs. Victory in Masters Tourney Is First For Sailor Keiser

Ex-Sailor Takes Title When Hogan Misses Short Put on Final Hole

Augusta, Ga., April 8 (AP)—Herman Keiser, an ex-sailor from Akron, Ohio, who was given no more than an outside chance of winning the Masters tournament, today holds the distinction of having won the coveted $10,000 event from the game's most talented stars.

Keiser, a 31-year-old former caddy, in his own words "sorta backed into the title" when Ben Hogan, the leading money winner of the year, missed a short putt on the final hole yesterday to hand the reigning blonde his first major victory.

About 20 minutes before Hogan, the painstaking pro from Hershey, Pa., three putted the final green from 15 feet. Keiser, who had led from the first day of the 72-hole event, also had taken three putts from 20 feet to get him a 282. Hogan had a 283 to make him the runnerup for the second straight time.

First Major Conquest
Keiser until he won the $2,500 first prize here, hadn't won a major tournament since he captured the Miami Four-Ball tournament with Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., in 1942. Hogan, ironically enough, finished a tie here with Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, in 1942, but lost the playoff. His second place yesterday was worth $1,500.

Keiser had a 37-37 over the 6,800-yard National Golf Club layout yesterday while Hogan had a 35-35. Bob Hamilton of Chicago had a 72 for a 287 total to win third place and $1,000, and Jimmie Demaret of Houston, Tex., Jim Ferrier of Chicago, and Ky Laffoon of Orlando, Fla., shared fourth place at 289 and each won $683.

Nelson and Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., both rated as possible winners, were next at 290 with Chick Harbert of Detroit, and Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C.

The tournament here ended the P.G.A.'s winter tour. The summer tour opens at Houston on May 9.

Hymes Turn Back Saugerties Five In Special Match

Hymes All Stars took a 121 pin decision away from Saugerties in a special match at the Central Recreation alleys Saturday night with Lou Hymes pacing the winners with a hefty 619 triple.

Whitaker of Saugerties was high man in the match with a cool 629.

The All Stars spanked the maples for games of 954, 942 and 982 for their 2878 team total against Saugerties' 867, 947 and 943 for 2757.

Hymes posted individual scores of 181, 220 and 218 for his 619 while Whitaker had 191, 216 and 222. Gil Sampson and Freddie Rice followed with 383 and 380. Sampson's 223 was high for Hymes and tied Ricketson of Saugerties who unleashed a 223 solo.

The score:

HYMES ALL STARS (121)
Hymes	181 220 218 619
Sampson	223 383 144 583
Whitaker	191 216 222 629

In The Pocket

CHARLIE TIANO

The final week of the "Pocket's" publication for the 1945-1946 season finds us with many topics still untouched, but come next Saturday we plan to call it quits for the season and turn our attention to such comparatively strange pursuits as golf and fishing.

Which reminds us—does any one have a set of old golf clubs they would like to dispose of at a reasonable price? (Business office, please overlook.)

Six-hundred triplets were scarce last week but the slump is indicative of the normal late-season letdown. Charlie Gruenwald bashed a 638 in the Major League, while Gil Sampson reeled off 636. Gil accomplished a rare feat in rolling three PGs in succession. Thirty straight clean frames is an accomplishment that compares with a perfect 300-score. Check back over your career and see how many times you have done it.

Among the male sparklers were "Pope" Myers with 238, Pete Ferraro 235 and Leo Everett, who aided Gruenwald's 3100 series with 220 and 203. Larry Weishaup posted 226, while Norm Niles bugged a 442 2-game total with 234-208. Fred Rice shot 626 in the Mid-Season League with 234 high. Jack Dawkins found the range for 217-588, while Ray Otta topped 214 and Harry Wilber 234.

J. Blinder was the Good Neighbor League standout with 225. G. Goldfarb posted 213, Sam Marcus 212 and Irving Adner 226. George Dawkins, shooting without the handicap of saved-off pins rocked the Independent circuit with 235 and 616. Ward DuBois had 210 and 214.

Elsewhere in the male circuits, Charlie Raible, former City League fireballer (throwing version) pounded out a 223 in the Electrol pool. Nick Tucker rolled 218, Jimmy Burns 209, while "Stubby" Jordan accounted for 202 and 203.

Marie O'Donnell was top lady bowler of the week with a 574

Cards, Senators Lead Grapefruit Baseball League

New York, April 8 (AP)—The Washington Senators and the St. Louis Cardinals looked today like the winners of the 1946 Grapefruit championships of the American and National Leagues respectively as both clubs enjoyed commanding leads in their divisions with the start of the regular season only eight days away.

The Senators, on top for the third consecutive week, rang up five victories without a loss during last week's play to bring their total to 18 wins and seven losses for an average of 720. The New York Yankees are second with 37 triumphs and 22 defeats for 627.

The Cardinals won six out of seven games last week and their record now reads 19 won and 10 lost for 655. The Philadelphia Phillies moved into second place with a mark of 15 and 12 for a 556 percentage.

A Word of Caution
This is a very good thing to pitch in and dig. For hard work's a tonic, 'twont hurt. But be careful about the direction, please. In which you throw out the dirt.

Political Speaker—I'm pleased to see such a dense crowd here tonight.
Voice—Don't be too pleased. We ain't all dense.

Desire is far short of performance. Some people have the kind of ambition that makes them wish, but not the kind that makes them work.
One of those amateur piano players, who always show up when you'd like some real music, was amusing a group by playing "Chopsticks." When he finished a kibitzer chimed in:
Kibitzer—Now let's see you play something hard.
Pianist—Okay, I'll play "Rock of Ages."

A Wide One—We Hope
From a Minnesota Daily: "The bride's only attendant was her cousin, Mrs. Lois Wilson, who immediately preceded her. Mrs. Wilson was becomingly gowned in an attractive blue-ribbon girle."

Mrs. (reading)—Weeds rob plants of water, food, space and light.
Mr.—And the gardener of his temper.

This is a year to make farms and gardens produce every possible pound of food. Plan that garden now.

Lawyer (shouting)—We don't care what you think; we want to know what you know!

Witness—Well, I may as well get off the stand then. I can't talk.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By Jimmy Hatlo

without thinking. I ain't no lawyer.

The whole democratic scheme of this country rests on education. What's the use of having freedom of speech if you've nothing worth while to say?

Anxious Mother—What does the average college man do with his week-end?
Dean of Men—Well, madam, sometimes I think he only hangs his hat on it.

Boogy—You know, I speak as I think.
Woogy—Yes, Boogy—only a little oftener.

Angry Customer—Here's that shirt I bought from you last week. You said you would return my money if it wasn't satisfactory.
Merchant (politely)—That's what I said. But I am happy to tell you that I found the money very satisfactory.

Correct This Sentence
"Your husband is the one I'm examining," said the doctor, "and I don't want to hear a peep out of you."

Detective (sneaky)—Can you give me a good description of the absconding cashier?
Hotel Proprietor—Well, I believe he's about five feet, five inches tall and about seven thousand dollars short.

Furthermore, No Reward
A classified advertisement in the Weekly Hartford Gazette, at Bel Air, Maryland, reads as follows: NOT WANTED—Anyone knowing the whereabouts of my husband, will please keep it to themselves. Mrs. Mosquito Creek, Md.

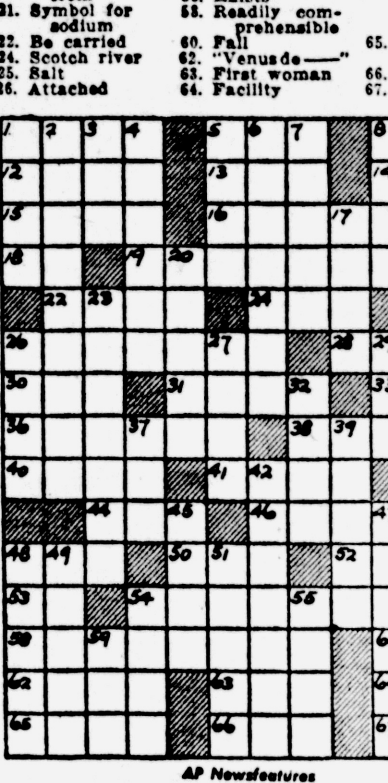

How admirable is the woman who says:
"My husband may not be very much for looks, but he takes mighty good care of me and the children."

Passing in Review
It's not the big things that you do that challenge when life's race is run. The thoughts that pass by in review. Are of little things you left undone. —David J. Teter.

Geologically, Australia is thought to be the oldest of the continents, being the most level in surface and the most regular in outline.

IMPORTANT COAST GUARD

In the midst of the hue and cry about the size of postwar army and navy, the Coast Guard has been quietly going about its regular peacetime work. While Congress and Washington gold braid argue about mergers, men and ships, the little service which fought with all the others, took part in every invasion, and still has thousands of its men busy bringing troops home, is back in its peacetime position under the Treasury Department, taking care of its normal chores.

The Coast Guard has its own problems, apart from those of the purely military services. Demobilization and slow recruiting are fast cutting the ranks, although the responsibilities have been expanded in recent years to include such activities as air-sea rescue operations, radar and loran stations, weather patrol and a merchant marine inspection.

On the Great Lakes, where the commercial shipping industry and more than 84,000 small boats are dependent upon Coast Guard services for their safety, the navigation season is opening with less than 40 per cent of the Lifeboat Stations named for rescue work. Twelve cutters lie idle for lack of men. Light-houses, buoys and other aids to navigation are given priority, but other services must be curtailed. The situation is similar on both seaboard and the Gulf of Mexico.

Coast Guard appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1946, are now under consideration by Congress. The service's future ability to assist people who use the waters of the United States, for business or pleasure, will depend largely on the decision of Congress on Coast Guard funds.

ROMANS LIKED IT, TOO

What's all this talk about horse shoe-pitching? The newspapers, the backyards, playgrounds and vacant lots are full of the subject. Championship games are played, and the scores and winners make headlines. Since Grandpa's time a farm yard pasture, it now has invaded New York City where courts are set up in the public parks. The horse shoe pitcher becomes an attraction at traveling carnivals, sportsmen's shows and town centennial celebrations, where the performer, clad in vaudevilian red tights and a flamboyant scarf makes ringers standing on his head, through a paper hoop and throwing backyards.

President Truman has had a stake pounded in the ground behind the Executive Mansion and he and his cronies have taken to making the iron shoes clink and clatter when internal issues or Russia's antics get too much for them. There's nothing new in the game. The Romans invented it as a means of using the shoes their blooded steeds knocked off their feet during chariot races along the Appian Way. So, let's go, boys, and see how many ringers can be scored up in the long spring twilight.

CURRENT VACCINATIONS

Five persons died of smallpox in Seattle recently, and the city took immediate action with a vaccination program by which 15,000 residents a day are now being vaccinated. In San Francisco about half the population has been vaccinated in the last few weeks, and other west coast cities are following suit, as fast as sufficient vaccine is available.

Smallpox cases have been rare in most communities in recent years. Vaccinations and public health programs have been effective in greatly reducing the danger of getting the disease. But with United States troops returning from all over the world, it is almost impossible to prevent some carrying of smallpox, despite the vigilance of service medical staffs.

There is no cause for any panic. Nowhere have smallpox cases reached epidemic numbers. But it is a wise time for people to check on vaccination dates and talk to the family doctor about renewing the protection.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

FACTS IS FACTS

That was a very optimistic statement of the President and Mr. John Snyder that reconversion has jumped the hump, that we are producing $150,000,000,000 of industrial goods, and that all that needs to be done is to keep the O.P.A. going and the hands will play—that there will undoubtedly be pie in the sky by and by.

Let us look at a few figures. With 1923 as 100, the cost of living in the United States reached 107.1 in December, 1945—the highest point since January, 1921. Do you remember the outcry against H.C.L. in those days? This figure means a rise of 24.5 per cent above January, 1941, the base month of the Little Steel Formula. The increase in food prices between January, 1941, and December, 1945, amounted to 46 per cent—and it is about 49 per cent now. And it is rising very rapidly in spite of Chester Bowles's ceiling prices and the O.P.A. shenanigans.

And if you will get the Federal Reserve Bulletin for March, 1946, on the very first page you will see a graph which completely disproves Mr. Snyder's optimistic statement. That graph shows the usual tobogganing of production after a war and the line on the graph goes down almost vertically. It is true that production is substantially above the 1935-1939 average. But you may recall that this country was in a depression in those years during which, according to government figures, there was an average unemployment of 10,000,000 every year.

Now, I do not know what Mr. Snyder means by $150,000,000,000. What kind of dollars? Does he mean 1923 dollars or 1946 dollars? If he means a January, 1941 dollar, the base of the "Little Steel Formula," the dollars are altogether different in value. Furthermore, what share of that $150,000,000,000 is represented by taxes to be collected by government out of production? Taxes are a cost of living—they are an expense. What share of Mr. Snyder's figure then is not productivity at all, but actual excess cost of operations through taxes?

And Mr. Snyder given us some figures showing volume and velocity of production instead of devalued dollar values, we might have had a figure to work with. It is difficult to understand why any government official would issue such a statement devoid of clarity, based upon estimates.

The real test is: Go get yourself an automobile, a new refrigerator, a fine new radio. Build yourself a new house. Get some piping to improve your household plumbing. Try to open a new business, something small that does not involve a couple of million dollars R.F.C. loan. Go buy yourself a new suit—something made of decent cloth. Throw a party and put big gobs of butter on the table.

Mr. Snyder apparently believes that all this is here or at most around the corner. But these things are not around any corner I hear anything about.

Let's stop talking about those billions—all I want is a pocket radio to take with me on a train. There's an order in, with a deposit put down, since Christmas. I'll let John Snyder hold on to his $150,000,000,000 estimate—but what about that pocket radio?

Look, John, facts is facts! When can I get that little radio? Also, do you think that butter really has to be about $1.00 a pound around the parts of the world where I live? And do I have to get down on my hands and knees to buy a little? And does it have to be explained to me that it is better to eat ice-cream because, on account of the O.P.A., it is sounder business to make and sell ice-cream than to make and sell butter? Butter? Let them eat ice-cream! What a campaign slogan!

Too bad, John! I thought you were a first-class, honest-to-goodness business man who could read figures. Whoever put that phony pie-in-the-sky statement over on you, sure tried hard to mix us all up with that figure of $150,000,000,000. It sounded like Henry Wallace off on a statistical spree, or Henry Morgenthau using big numbers to sound like a big man.

SKIN TESTS

Less than twenty years ago a physician doing special work in allergy was using about 25 different substances in testing for allergy. Today the number of substances used by this physician is several hundred.

Generally speaking when the eating of a certain food brings out hives, eczema or other skin disturbance a few hours afterwards, or is followed by a head cold or stomach upset, it is definite proof that the individual is allergic or sensitive to that food.

One of the foods that does not often cause allergic symptoms is lamb or mutton, in fact it is one of the foods that is used as not likely to cause allergic symptoms and to lamb is added one other food at each meal following, until the food causing symptoms is finally found. There are of course many in whom lamb and mutton do cause symptoms.

An interesting fact about a food which actually causes symptoms yet the test of this substance does not show the individual to be allergic to this food or other substance is pointed out by Dr. P. Blumenthal in Medical Press, Paris. It has been found that it is not the food itself that causes the symptoms but the product of the food after it has been acted on by digestive juices. He describes studies on a patient aged 34 who for about ten years had had attacks of hives (urticaria), with swelling of the face every time he ate lamb or mutton. The attack appeared five or six hours after the meat had been eaten. All skin tests with lamb or mutton caused no symptoms; that is the patient was not allergic.

When a sample of the food was treated with stomach (gastric) juice the test was negative but when the food was treated with stomach digestive juice and also the other digestive juices—bile and pancreatic juice—the hives appeared showing patient positive.

This means that we may not be sensitive to a food itself, but may be sensitive or positive to that same food once it has been acted on by digestive juices. This will explain why skin tests sometimes fail to find the food causing symptoms.

Send today for Dr. Barton's helpful booklet entitled "Allergy" which means being allergic or sensitive to various foods and other substances. It contains ten cents and a three cent stamp to cover cost of handling and mailing, and send to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. scenes the bomb "sees" can be flashed back to some one on the ground or on an auxiliary observation plane. Does this mean there is going to be less need of photographers in the world? Ever since the Industrial Revolution the threat of unemployment has hung over society, and now along comes a bomb to add to the poor workingman's worries.

Not that news photographers seem anxious. The public desire for pictures and more pictures seems insatiable.

New Garden Huckleberry Is Easy to Grow

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

IF YOU LIKE huckleberry pie you can grow your own this year, and without any trouble.

Among the novelty plants for 1946 is a new garden huckleberry which produces a fruit similar to but larger than the common huckleberry or blueberry as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

This newcomer is related to the tomato family. It bears bunches of blackberries, one-half inch in diameter, as illustrated.

It is an annual and grown from seed each year but is very prolific, yielding an abundance of fruit which will remain on the plant two months after they are ripe.

and preserves and when cooked with apples, lemon or other sour fruit, makes the finest jelly.

To serve in pie or sauce, garden huckleberries should be sweetened with a syrup made of one part sugar to three parts water. As these berries lack acidity, add lemon juice or cook with sour apples, or rhubarb.

The plants are upright and branching and grow to a height of three feet. Cultivation is the same as with the tomato.

There is also a new post-war tomato called the Victor. It is an early variety of high quality. This new variety is a valuable addition to the home garden because it produces its smooth bright scarlet fruits earlier than nearly any other variety.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

The 75th anniversary of the founding of Valentin Burgevin, Inc., leading florists of Kingston, was being observed by the concern in 1927, and that year the annual catalogue was much larger than usual in honor of the event.

Valentin Burgevin established the florist business on Pearl street in 1852, on the site of the present establishment which in 1927 had ten acres under glass.

At the time Mr. Burgevin retired from active business affairs, the concern was continued by his son, George and David Burgevin, and since their deaths the business has been continued under the same name.

Both of the Burgevin brothers for years were active in civic and social affairs in Kingston, and both had served as members of the city boards. George Burgevin for several years was one of the leading members of the water board, while David Burgevin was an active member of the Board of Public Works.

And speaking of anniversaries, Franklin Lodge, No. 37, Knights of Pythias, on April 4, 1927, celebrated its 57th anniversary with appropriate ceremonies in Pythian Hall on Broadway, at Thomas street.

Franklin Lodge for years numbered among its membership many of the leading business and professional men of Kingston. One of its outstanding members was Mayor Palmer Canfield who at the time he was serving the city as mayor was elected supreme head of the order in the state.

The other day I wrote how the Common Council went on record as approving the installation of voting machines in the city, and at the council meeting on April 5, 1927, the aldermen voted to purchase 20 voting machines at a cost of $18,800.

It was planned to install a voting machine in each of the twenty voting districts in the city.

If memory serves me correctly voting machines were used for the first time at the general election in November of 1927.

Since the voting machines have been in use in the city it has resulted in the voters learning the results of an election much earlier in the evening, after the polls closed, than under the old system of using paper ballots, which had to be checked and counted separately.

At first there was considerable objection on the part of many voters to the use of voting machines. Among the objections raised was that a number of voters would not be able to learn how to manipulate the machines.

The results of elections held since the installation of the machines, however, have proven that the average voter has no difficulty in recording his vote, and as correctly as when paper ballots were used.

As I recall it there were always a number of void ballots during the years paper ballots were in use, due to the fact that they would be improperly marked by the voter.

Extension of Draft Law Offers Tough Political Subject for Those in Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 8.—Congress has been dawdling along on the matter of extending the draft law. This being a political year, the members do not like to face the antagonism of the families affected.

The draft has never been an easy issue to meet politically. That's why even during the war emergency, but before Pearl Harbor, the House of Representatives in 1941 came within one vote of abandoning the statute.

The United States Army, however, is confronted today not with a theory but a condition. It isn't a question of whether young men or middle-aged or any one class should be drafted but what shall be done to get the requisite number for overseas duty and for training.

Under the leadership of Secretary of War Patterson, the Army has endeavored to set forth its minimum requirements. General Eisenhower vouches for the figures needed for the Army and Ground Forces and General Spaatz has calculated what the Air Forces will require.

The goal is to reduce the entire Army and Air Forces to about 1,070,000 men by July 1947. This is about what the War Department feels is its minimum requirement. Out of this total, the Air Forces want 400,000 men.

The figures for the Air Forces particularly are reasonable considering the importance of air power today. The total of 1,070,000 is not large for a transition period nor is it big compared to the forces maintained by Russia, which are believed to be at least five times that number.

The War Department has been accused of trying to use the extension of the draft as the entering wedge for conscription. There appears to be no basis for such a suspicion. Thus Secretary Patterson has said that he has no objection to a proviso in the extension of the draft law which states that as long as personnel requirements are being met by the volunteer system, nobody shall be inducted.

The truth is the presence of the draft law acts as a stimulant in recruiting. The young man who is not sure of the length of time he will be in service. The volunteers have the advantage of being able to specify eighteen months as the limit of their service.

The Army chiefs think that as long as they have the draft law on the statute books they can fill quotas by volunteers. Physical standards have been lowered and the 4-F must really be physically handicapped to be rejected now.

The War Department has been up against a charge that the extension of the draft law is related to its proposal for universal military training. The answer to this is that under none of the bills providing for military training can any boys be sent out of the country, or made a part of the Regular Army.

Why does the Army want a total of 1,070,000 by July 1947? The answer is that the tasks assigned to the Army include duty in occupied countries, both in Europe and the Far East, as well as the maintenance of a trained Air Force for national defense. Likewise it would appear that in order to make available for the use of the United Nations in emergency, a substantial force, the United States must be ready to send an overseas expedition to help maintain order and prevent the development of another world war.

The size of the Army—namely, 1,070,000—is predicated on the idea that a peace treaty will be concluded, that U.N.O. will be effective, and that occupation tasks will not soon be finished but will require at least two or three years.

Sentiment on Capitol Hill has been cool to the idea of extending the Selective Service law, but it is veering toward the adoption of a plan to prolong the term of the statute at least until the spring of 1947. It is probable that boys who have just become 18 will be included within the draft as the day the law is passed. Draft quotas, however, will be low if volunteers enlist in adequate numbers.

BETTER AND FREER RADIO HINDERED AGAIN

Suppose a Commission of the United States Government dominated by the hired publicity men of the political party which happened to be in office were to make a ruling that newspapers had to be printed on presses of a certain size and suppose such a ruling put out of business four-fifths of the newspapers in the United States, making it a simple matter to frighten, regulate and dominate the remainder? You would begin to get excited about the freedom of the press!

This is very much what has happened to radio, right under your nose and mine, and although it is generally conceded that radio is entitled to all the rights of free speech untrammelled by officialdom, still radio does not seem to come under the same constitutional protections that have kept our press from being arbitrarily made an instrument of political tyranny.

Ruling party bureaucracy has ways to strike body blows at the freedom of radio which you and I, simple citizens who are not experts in electronics, know nothing about. But these things may affect our lives as much as tricks invented by Mussolini, Hitler or Stalin affected the lives of their people, unless we get wise and put our collective feet down on collectivism. These cute tricks not only strike at American liberty, but at the same time deprive us of the very best in radio listening value. When Americans can't have the best in science or mechanical gadgets, it is likely to make them angry.

For a while you heard a great deal about a kind of radio known as Frequency Modulation, or just F. M. The stations which compose the four networks to which you now listen broadcast on a type of air wave called A. M. for Amplitude Modulation. Network and independent stations altogether numbered only 945 at the last count, 680 of these belonged to the four networks, which have grown in constant fear, but which are in the Federal Communication Commission, and therefore do their best to please the powers that be.

Then came the war, and F. M. had to be put off. But why don't you have it now? Well, I'll tell you, but I didn't know, myself, until one of the leading producers of radio equipment in America told me the other day! One he reckoned on a bureau called the Radio Technical Planning Board, which is the child of F. C. M. and all of its listening adventures and prospects of freedom from control so sky high that you and I aren't getting our nice new F. M. radio sets anywhere in the near future—maybe not until the land becomes a totalitarian war state, and radio is definitely put under state control! I'll tell you how the deed was done in my next.

Gardner-Sewell Wedding Takes Place

The wedding of Miss Tisane Sewell, daughter of Mrs. Marion Woods of California, formerly of Woodstock and William Joyce Sewell of Oyster Bay, L. I., to Ernest Gardner, son of Mrs. Francis J. Phillips of Mt. Tremper and Burton W. Gardner, New York, took place Saturday, March 30 at 5 p. m. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church.

The church was decorated with branches of yellow forsythia and clusters of white snapdragons.

The bride who was given in marriage by Walter Seaton, wore a tailored costume of pearl gray with matching hat trimmed with rose and a corsage of white roses. Miss Judy Seaton as maid of honor wore a shell pink dress with black horsehair hat trimmed with rose.

James Cosgrove was best man. Ushers were Victor Allen and Donald McShane.

After the ceremony a reception for the members of the wedding party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seaton in Zena. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Gardner left for their home in Mt. Tremper.

Mrs. Gardner is the granddaughter of Mrs. Lucy Fletcher Brown and the late Bolton Brown, noted lithographer, etcher, painter, and one of the first artists to come to Woodstock.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Scholl of Woodstock. As a lieutenant in the Army Air Corps, he served in the India-Burma-China Theatre for 11 months as first pilot on a C-56 and C-47 transports. He also served four months in the European Theatre. He was awarded the Air Medal with oak leaf cluster and wears two European Battle Stars and one Asiatic-Pacific battle star. He received his honorable discharge a few weeks ago and is now associated with A. Royce Simmons in his electric supply and service company in Woodstock.

William Cointot, Navy, Marries

Miss Marjorie June Brown Ellenville, April 8 — A pretty spring wedding took place at the Methodist Church Sunday, March 31, when Miss Marjorie June Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Brown of this village became the bride of William Robert Cointot, seaman with the navy, stationed in New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Eason, pastor of the church. Two baskets of gladioli adorned the altar.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory lace with illusion collar and a fingertip veil and carried a bridal bouquet of white sweet peas. Her sister, Mrs. Harry Rundle of Summitville was matron of honor. She was dressed in mauve tulle and net and carried tulle train.

Roger Cointot was best man for his brother. Ushers were David Osterhoudt, Arthur Distel and Vrooman and Kervyn Krom.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of aqua crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Thurlow Murden sang "O Promise Me," and "Always," accompanied by John Terwilliger, at the organ, preceding the ceremony.

The bride, a graduate of Ellenville High School, is employed as bookkeeper at the Ulster Garage. She will make her home with her parents here for the present.

A reception for 60 relatives and friends was held at the Mitchell House immediately following the ceremony. The tables were decorated with daffodils and ferns.

MISS MADELINE SAPP

The marriage of MISS MADELINE SAPP, daughter of Mrs. Viola Sapp, 180 Hasbrouck avenue, and the late Matthew A. Sapp, to Roger B. Parmelee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrah Parmelee of Revere, Mass., will be performed Easter Sunday, 4:30 p. m. in the Immaculate Conception Church in Revere, Mass., by the Rev. Father O'Neil. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1945, and is employed at the New York Telephone Co. Mr. Parmelee was recently discharged from the Army Air Corps after serving 3½ years in the Pacific area.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Glasner of 14 Len Court announce the engagement of their daughter, MISS LENORE GLASNER, to Archie Adin, technical sergeant, U. S. Marine Corps, son of Mrs. Pearl Adin, 57 East Strand. Both attended Kingston High School. Miss Glasner also attended Temple University and Albany Business College. She is employed at the Bernie Singer Firestone Store. Sergeant Adin expects to be discharged in June after serving about four years with the marines. He returned from the Pacific area in October and is stationed at Cherry Point, N. C.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of MISS VIOLA KNAUTH DUNBAR, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Dunbar, Hurley, to Charles T. Hampton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. MISS LENORE GLASNER

MISS VIOLA K. DUNBAR

Roger S. Boice, Navy Petty Officer, Weds Miss Marian Remus at Trinity Church Saturday

The marriage of Miss Marian Ethel Remus, daughter of Fred O. Remus, 612 Broadway, to Roger Shaw Boice, petty officer first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Boice, Lake Katrine, was performed Saturday at 3 p. m. in Trinity Lutheran Church. The Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, pastor, officiated.

Miss Lucinda Merritt was organist. Mrs. Marion Smith as soloist, sang, "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "O Perfect Love." The church was lighted by candles and the altar was decorated with white carnations and palms.

Mr. Remus gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a bridal gown designed with white satin bodice, sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves, net skirt and train. Her finger tip veil was attached to a Juliet cap of waxed orange blossoms. She carried white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Margaret Hauptman as maid of honor wore a yellow nylon gown with net skirt and a headpiece of yellow flowers and veiling. She carried yellow roses with blue ins. The bridesmaids were the Misses Beatrice Rizzi and Ida Boice, sister of the bridegroom. Both wore gowns made with satin bodices and net skirts. Miss Rizzi's was in blue and Miss Boice's in pink. Their headpieces of veiling and flowers matched their gowns and they carried pink roses and blue iris. The bridegroom's mother wore a violet flowered silk jersey dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

Lewis M. Boice was best man for his brother. Ushers were Thaddeus L. Dean and Lloyd Clement.

Health Nurse Week Program in City

Card Party Will Be Held for Well Baby Clinic

This week has been designated as "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week" throughout the United States, and in Kingston, an attractive program of interesting events has been planned as the city's share in the nation-wide observance of the week.

Today open house was held in the rooms of the Board of Health in the city hall, from 11 to 12 a. m. and in the afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock, to afford the public an opportunity of meeting the public health nursing staff of Kingston, and learn more of the activities carried on by this branch of the city's public health program.

This series of open house will be held daily for the remainder of the week.

Tuesday evening a big card party will be held in the municipal auditorium, and the funds raised will be used to defray the setting up of a Well Baby Clinic at the Health Center on East O'Reilly street. Tickets for the card party may be obtained at the door that evening.

Mayor W. F. Edelmuth will deliver an address appropriate to the week over the local radio station at 7:15 o'clock this evening. Other speakers during the week will include, Dr. John F. Larkin, city health officer, Dr. Henry L. Bibby,

This Week Is Dedicated To All Public Health Nurses

This week, April 7-13, is being celebrated throughout the country as Know Your Public Health Nurse Week.

It is especially important for all citizens to know about the health facilities of their community and use them to the best advantage. Unfortunately not enough people understand public health nursing service, and how it can help them in sickness and in health. It is hoped that Know Your Public Health Nurse Week will bring better understanding of public health nursing services to every home in the towns of Ulster county.

Most people are accustomed, the year round, to seeing the blue-clad nurse with the black bag hurrying from call to call along the highways and byways. Too many, however, have taken her for granted and often are vague in understanding the work she does helping to guard the health of the community. Now comes the time when all are asked to join in a community-wide educational program that will acquaint everyone with her work.

DESSERT IMPLEMENTS

A reader says: "I hope you won't mind my repeating a question which you answered several weeks ago, which is this: When the dessert is dished in the kitchen and brought in on individual plates, should the silver be put on the plate with the dessert or on the table with the other silver? Your answer to this was: Correctly, the dessert implements are brought in on the dessert plate, but for convenience they may be brought on with the dessert itself or be placed horizontally above each place when the table is set. Forgive me, but I do not understand what you mean. I was describing very formal service, when the dessert implements are brought in on each plate without food on it. The dessert then is passed around the table. If you serve dessert on each plate, you either could put the spoon or fork (or both) beside the dessert or you could place the implements on the table horizontally above the service plate when the table is set. If put above instead of at the service plate, the dessert implements will not be used for an earlier course.

Making Wedding List

Dear Mrs. Post: Please explain in detail how the wedding lists are made up. How do I know how far down the list of the relatives I can go to send invitations, when I do not know how many there would be on the groom's side before asking to have their list? Our own family is quite large and there are also many personal friends and business friends whom my father wishes to include.

Answer: You have to get the groom's list to add to your own. When doing this you, of course, cut out duplicate names. If the lists are very long and there are many of both families, it may be better to cut out acquaintances of both families. If one list is long and the other is short, they balance each other.

Smoking During Meals

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a friend who insists that it is not proper to smoke between the beginning of a meal and dessert. I happen to like to smoke throughout the meal but feel very self-conscious about lighting a cigarette when he is sitting next to me.

Answer: It depends upon whether you are his guest or he is yours. If you are his guest, he should permit you to do what you like. If he is your guest, you should show consideration for his feelings and not smoke.

How Long Will SOAP SHORTAGES LAST?

ON THE GLOOMY SIDE

There are not nearly enough fats in the country to make all the soaps, soap powders, and soap flakes you want. So short is the supply, the government must decide how much fat can be released to make soap and other peacetime goods.

Besides, the supplies of soaps many of you housewives have had in reserve are running low—and the demand for soaps is increasing.

ON THE BRIGHT SIDE

Most of you housewives have continued to turn in fats. You've helped keep our industrial fat supply large enough to meet minimum needs.

But it's a close race. Any letdown on your part can mean less soap for everybody.

By turning in used fats you're helping to bring back bigger supplies of scarce soaps. Keep on the job, get 4¢ for every pound.

Cold Weather, Lower Hudson Nets Put Brake on Kingston Shad Run

Fish Trucked Into City Give Competition to Fishermen in This Area of Valley

The shad is making its annual run to the spawning grounds near Barrytown, but not in the plentiful droves generally associated with this time of the season, local fishermen reported today.

This seasonal occupation to bag the favorite food fish for the entire valley—the Hudson river shad—is attracting fishermen in unusually large numbers, but as yet the catches have been sub-normal.

Van Bramer, local shad dealer, who fingers the pulse of shad fishermen fortunes pretty well attributes the scarcity of shad to the extremely cold and windy weather.

"Most of the established fishermen are having a tough time at present," Van Bramer said today, "but the catches will be stepped up with the advent of warmer weather."

Van Bramer revealed that the practice of stringing stage nets across the Hudson River at the George Washington bridge also is raising havoc with local fishermen. This practice was abolished during the war, but was resumed this season.

"A lot of shad are blocked by those nets," Van Bramer said, "and the only time the shad get through toward the spawning grounds is between Friday noon and Saturday midnight when the nets are lifted according to state fishing laws."

Retarding of the local season by bad weather has resulted in outside competition for local commercial fishermen. Shad is now being trucked to the Kingston markets from areas below Peekskill where conditions are more favorable to shad runs.

Like every phase of the fisherman's pursuits, shad fishing has its traditional names along the Rondout and Kingston waterfronts. Perhaps the best known shad fisherman of the area is Tony Alecca of the Kingston Point. Tony's shad exploits have become legend among local fishermen.

Louis Naccarato, of Kingston, is another shad catcher of renown. Naccarato is credited unofficially with an all-time Kingston record of 387 shad in one catch. This was established last season when the annual run was decidedly below normal. No official records are kept in this competition and there is a possibility that this record may have been exceeded at some time or other during the long, colorful history of the annual campaigns against the shad.

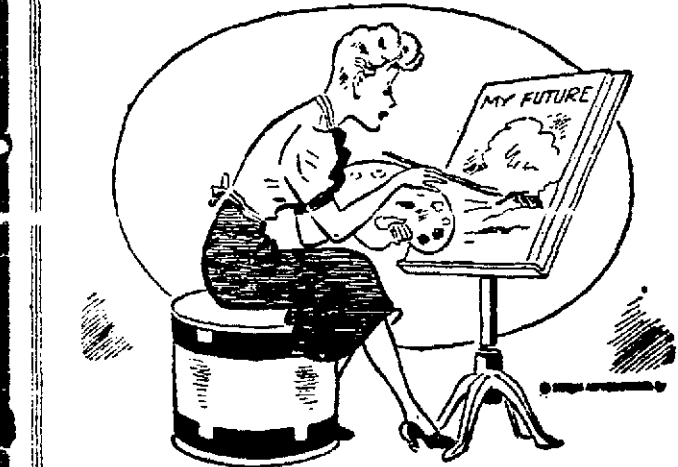

Behind Alecca and Naccarato are such worthies as Pete and Ted Lemister, who work as a team; Charlie Dasher, A. Adams, Nick Lemister, George Van Steenberg and a host of others. Farther up the Hudson, at Ulster Landing, Frank Fabiano and sons hold forth.

Rough Going

Several of the local fishermen have shacks built along the waterfront from which they make three or four trips a day to the "middle grounds" where the shad flourish. The going has been rough during the past few days and there have been reports of near-swampings but there is nothing more intrepid than a shad fisherman.

Catches of seven and eight pound roe shad, an obsession with some connoisseurs of Hudson river delicacies, have been reported but the average is about five pounds. The male shad, known as bucks, average much smaller than the females, two and one-half to three pounds. The early run of fish, while the water is yet cold, are by far the more succulent.

Early Catches Best
There is no better fish than an April or early May roe shad, freshly caught and baked perfectly in an electric oven, according to Julian Burroughs, of West Park, grandson of the famous naturalist, John Burroughs.

"The fault of the shad," says Mr. Burroughs, is that they are so delicate and perishable, so quickly losing both their flavor and iridescent tints. The June shad are so often thin and poor. Like "the last run of shad" was a common by-word to describe anything that was poor and scrawny.

Vets Swell Ranks
An increased number of commercial shad fishermen is evident this season. A number of returned war veterans have joined the ranks for the season while it is on.

If records for the past few seasons hold up, the shad haul for 1946 should show an increase. Weather conditions, of course, will be the determining factor.

The State Conservation Commission which regulates the shad season and protects the source from complete exploitation and exhaustion reports the 1945 shad catch in New York state was 2,167,540 pounds, a gain of 48,849 pounds over 1944. These figures compare with the 24,029 pounds taken by commercial netters in 1915 when the fish had almost disappeared.

Escapement Period
Under state regulations netters are barred from the river each week of the season from Friday noon until Saturday midnight.

This escapement period is designed to permit enough fish to escape to spawning grounds. The spawning grounds extending toward Barrytown from Kingston Point are barred to fishermen. Commercial netters also are restricted on the number, size and type of nets they may use.

The shad may be found and taken anywhere from Highbridge, opposite the Palisades, to the spawning grounds off Kingston toward Barrytown. The shad, of course, if one knows where to find them, the Hudson river has a tricky bottom and apparently no one knows it better than the shad.

Want Clean Water
One can hardly consider himself a full-blooded Hudson valley citizen if he hasn't tasted the luscious shad. And if you have, you need have no worries about his habits.

"The shad won't come in unless the water is right," Lou Naccarato says. Naccarato referred to the shad trait of not entering the river until the spring freshet is out and the water has ceased to be "filly." "They also like to come in on a full moon and so they should have started running heavily about April 1," Naccarato continued, "but you know the weather has been very bad the past few days."

A shad won't swim in riled up water, according to Tony Alecca, "The shad you know," Alecca volunteers in the river-wise fashion attesting his reputation, "has very sensitive gills and swimming in riled water lodges a lot of grit in the gills when he breathes and he doesn't like it."

Not many people realize it, but the shad is a veritable streak of light in salt water and can work up a pretty fair head of steam if needs be. But once in fresh water, the shad becomes a dawdler, making about seven miles a day in the travel up to the spawning grounds.

A Real Treat

Fishermen speak with unblinking enthusiasm about the succulence of the shad. They'll tell you bluntly that nothing in the water tops it, either in food value or just as plain fish.

"The shad," Alecca says, "is the cleanest thing that swims. In the river it carries its own food with it, getting nourishment from a substance in secrets in the stomach. In salt water, the shad obtains nourishment only from a substance it secretes in it."

Proof of this Alecca point out, is that a shad cannot be taken on a hook and line and he defies anyone to attempt it. There could be a million shad out in the Hudson, he declares, and not a single one would look at a hook. Another reason is that the shad run pretty close to the bottom and netting them is the only practical method of snaring them.

Return to Same River

With amazing intuition, shad return only to the river in which they were spawned. They travel in fairly large schools, depending on the size of the run and remain in the river until well into the summer. The general fishing season terminates about June 1. Some shad catches have been reported in late fall, but they are the exception.

"When the shad start moving for home though, they go out pretty fast. Only a few tides and the river is clear," Alecca says.

Greater Demand

Demand for Hudson River shad is greater today than ever before. This is due not only because more people have come to know and like the fish, but also because it is possible now to keep the fish under deep freeze conditions. Frozen shad is considered just as good as when taken out of the water and is used considerably in diets at many hospitals.

Can Be Boned
Fred Polhamus, noted Poughkeepsie shad expert, recently chided persons who don't relish shad because of its bony structure.

"A shad properly filleted," Polhamus says, "can be broiled or pan fried and give not the least trouble to the most fastidious of the bone-shy. Of course filleting the fish is something of an art, I'll admit, but I hold that a few bones should not stand in the way of a real treat in fish eating."

WEST HURLEY

West Hurley, April 4—The annual Red Cross drive, Mrs. Michael Joyce, chairman, has drawn to a successful conclusion having exceeded its quota. The success of the drive was due to the following workers: Mrs. Clarence Osterman, Mrs. William McNamee, Mrs. Anna McAuliffe, Mrs. Iven Freer, Mrs. James Stoutenburg, Mrs. Henry Robinson, Miss Sarah Allen, Clayton Vredenburg, Herbert Glass, John H. Saxe and John Fitzsimmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Morris left Sunday morning for Philadelphia where Mr. Morris will enter Temple University.

Mrs. Everett Hammond and son, Jon, of Paterson, N. J., spent several days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Buley.

The P.U.G.S. Girls' Club met at the home of Miss Eleanor Vredenburg on March 25. At this meeting it was decided that the club would be host to the returned service men at a dance soon after Easter.

The annual appeal for Catholic Charities is now under way with Paul Joyce as lay chairman.

The redecorating of the interior of the West Hurley post office has been completed.

Monday night, April 1, the P.U.G.S. Girls' Club met at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Ryan, and the date for the service men's dance was set for April 26. The William Dodd band will furnish music for dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Stathis and Nicholas Pulos were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Joyce.

Eugene Osterander is ill with a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Morris, Mrs. Everett Hammond and son, Jon, were luncheon guests last Saturday for Mrs. Robert Buley at Glenford.

Mrs. William McNamee is spending several days in Binghamton.

Robert Dee of the Woodstock road left Thursday for service with the army.

MODENA

Modena, April 6—There was a record attendance at the dance, sponsored by the Modena Fire Department at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Modena school was closed Monday, when Teachers Miss Catherine Tighue and Mrs. Doris Hadley attended Teachers' Conference at the State College in New Paltz.

Shelby Harcourt, Kathryn Kalamucki and Philip Rappelyea, local students, assisted in the program of entertainment presented at the conference.

Miss Mary Ella Ward has returned home from St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, where she was a patient for several days.

Myron Miller of Hauppauge, L. I., accompanied his mother, Mrs. Anna Miller, to her home here on Saturday. Mrs. Myron Miller and son, Myron, Jr., visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frumier at Pawling en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wager and daughter, Edith, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ransel Wager on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy DuBois and daughter, Marylou, visited Mrs. Martha Brandon and son, John, at Towners on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peppe Rosende and daughters, Maria, Dolores and Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Henie Lampe and daughter, Lorraine, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Miquelinas on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gerow of New Paltz were among visitors of Mrs. A. D. Wager and daughter on Sunday.

Phyllis Paltridge, Phyllis Winters, Jane Rippey and Ronald Wahl, all of Modena, were among students of the 7A Social Study Class of the Wallkill Central School, who enjoyed a bus trip to Washington's Headquarters in Newburgh recently.

The Modena Fire Department was called out about 3 a. m. on Sunday, when a car of Vincent Johnston was completely destroyed by fire. The car was in close proximity to the home of Harry Elting and family, and threatened to destroy the building. Sunday afternoon, an alarm was sent in as a fire by the railroad tracks was becoming dangerous.

Many local people attended the public sale of E. DuBois at Gardiner on Thursday.

Mrs. Deits and daughter of Brooklyn were visitors of friends here on Saturday.

Barbara DuBois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon DuBois of this section, has been selected as salutatorian of the 1946 graduating class of the Wallkill Central School.

Methodist, Young Married Couples of Modena and Clintondale have organized a club. The first meeting was held Friday evening of the past week at the Modena Methodist parsonage. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. J. Leonard Coy, Jr.; vice president, Wilfred Doolittle; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Melvin Thorne. Topical Bible Studies will be the features of the meeting sessions.

The Modena 4-H Club met Saturday at the home of the local leader, Mrs. Marian Jensen, and was attended by Jean and Harriet Wells, Marlene Palmer, Rosemary and Marian DeWitt, Jane Eckert, Agnes Ronk, Gail Grimm, Kathryn and Jane Rippey, Ellen Gierisch, Doris Niddrie and Kathryn Kalamucki were to attend an egg demonstration in Kingston, and on Saturday, April 13, a meeting will be held in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. A sewing project will be in session.

Kenneth Paltridge was in Newburgh Monday.

New Controls Found
Indian and Allied physicians working on the Indo-Burmese border during wartime developed several measures which will profoundly affect future military malaria control, Bombay reports.

Discoveries include: Use of suppressive meparine; introduction of DDT to enable complete control of larger areas than formerly; and use of repellent fishnets to protect patrols and troops in contact with the enemy. For such troops malaria has in the past been difficult or impossible to prevent. The report was made by M. K. Afridi, O.B.E., consultant malariologist.

Quills are known to have been used for writing as early as the seventh century.

Keresman Added To List of Police Chief Candidates

Who will succeed Chief of Police Charles Phinney, when he retires on April 30? This question is causing considerable speculation. The members of the Board of Police Commissioners are not yet talking. Mayor W. F. Edmuth, when interviewed recently by a reporter, said that the board had several likely candidates, both inside and outside the department, under consideration. He declined to divulge the names of the candidates.

Ulster HomeGroup Plans 1946 Program At Local Meeting

Seventy-five officers and leaders of the Ulster County Home Bureau met at the Governor Clinton Hotel on April 5 to plan the program for the coming year. Requests for lessons on home furnishings and the family wardrobe were most popular including lessons on slip covers, caning and rush seating of chairs, Hitchcock chairs, refinishing furniture, lampshades. Curtains and draperies, the making of gloves, tailored suits, children's clothing, the use of sewing machine attachments, etc.

Women feel that the suggestions received during the past year on how to meet food shortages were most pertinent and ask to have the same kind of information included in food and nutrition lessons next year. In addition, since entertaining was reduced during war years and now is being resumed, they request a three lesson project on that subject including menus on luncheon and supper dishes which will take account of shortages.

Recognizing the importance of good management to success in homemaking, management leaders recommend that more individual kitchen and cupboard conferences be held. That plans be made for getting information out on new equipment as well as on some of the new cleaning agents. A few women would like help on household accounts and budgeting.

Work will be continued on mental health, with an authority in this field speaking at a country wide meeting. Books on the subject will be recommended from time to time through the year.

The study of current public problems will be continued with brief reports and discussions at regular monthly meetings in the units with speakers at unit and regional meetings once during the year.

Mrs. Arnold Van Lear, county chairman, presided at the meeting. She was assisted by county leaders who, assisted by local leaders, summarized requests in their respective fields:

Mrs. A. L. Berwin, citizenship; Mrs. Ethan Allen, clothing; Mrs. Edward Davenport, food and nutrition; Mrs. H. M. Eppes, home management; Mrs. David DuBois, home furnishings; Mrs. William Powers presented plans for publicity.

Miss Everice Parsons, home demonstration agent, working with unit officers, scheduled the necessary administrative meetings throughout the year.

Miss Parsons complimented the leaders on their fine work explaining that unless they were on the job literally hundreds of lessons would have to be omitted.

Mrs. Van Lear invited those present to give special consideration to means of cooperating with President Truman's call for overcoming food waste and reduction in the consumption of cereal grains.

Upon his return to the United States he was assigned to the Office of the Judge Advocate General in Washington. He was separated March 24.

Raymond J. Mino Resumes Practice

Former Special City Judge Discharged by Army

Attorney Raymond J. Mino, former special city judge of the Kingston city court, has recently been relieved from active duty in the armed forces of the United States and has resumed the practice of law at his new offices at 42 Main street, this city.

Mr. Mino was inducted into the armed forces in June, 1943, and was thereafter commissioned and detailed with the Judge Advocate General's Department of the Army. He served overseas in the European Theatre of Operations as a member of the judge advocate's office and while there he assisted in the preparation and presentation of the war crimes trials in Germany.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Foreign Affairs Analyst)

It looks very much as though the status of the Franco government in Spain may provide another early crisis with which the United Nations Security Council will have to struggle.

This is a delicate and vastly important situation and one which involves a further divergence of view among the Big-Three—Russia on the one side and the Western Allies on the other. It's an embarrassing baby to be left on the council doorstep. Still it is clear that it will have to be dealt with sooner or later, and having studied the position at close range recently, it strikes me that the sooner the better.

If the Spanish issue were one of those things which gave promise of solving itself, it might be discreet to let it slide. But fresh pressure for action against Generalissimo Franco is developing from Eastern Europe in Russia and from France, who insist that his regime is a menace to international peace. The United States and Britain, while turning thumbs down on the Falangist government, don't subscribe to the thesis that it threatens peace.

The latest development is Poland's decision to sever diplomatic relations with Spain. Rumania already had made that move last Friday. From the Polish Embassy in London also came the statement that Poland would raise the matter in the Security Council and call on the United Nations to break relations with Madrid.

Republicans Await Chance
Meantime, of course, the Spanish Republic government which is in exile in friendly France, under the presidency of Jose Giral, is waiting for fortune to give it an open sesame that will crash the gates of the Spanish capital. This represents the Leftist government which Franco overthrew in the frightful Civil War of 1936-39.

This Spanish issue poses three far-reaching questions for the Security Council to answer—questions which will be fundamental in determining the long-range of the United Nations. These are: Does Franco's Fascist government—or any similar regime represent a menace to international peace? (The question of whether any nation involves peace is usually the highest importance, and this is emphasized in Russia's demand that the Security Council drop the Iranian case on the ground that it doesn't threaten peace.)

If the Franco regime is a menace to peace, what action shall be taken by the United Nations? If it isn't inimical to peace, how far shall the United Nations go in dictating what form of government Spain—or any other country—shall or shall not have.

They tell us that comparisons are necessary for the highest importance, and this is emphasized in Russia's demand that the Security Council drop the Iranian case on the ground that it doesn't threaten peace.)

Body in River Is Identified Sunday As William Stairs

Man Had Been Missing From State Hospital in Poughkeepsie Since Feb. 12

A body found floating in the Hudson river, Sunday morning, at Krum Elbow, was identified as that of William Stairs, 58, who had been reported missing from the Hudson River State Hospital in Poughkeepsie since February 12.

Employees of the West Shore Railroad notified State Police at the Highland barracks about the presence of the body in the river, and Corporal John Metzger was detailed to investigate. He learned that the body was that of the missing William Stairs.

Coroner Jesse McHugh of Wallkill gave a verdict of accidental drowning, after considering details of the case.

'Y' Gold Medal Cage Tourney Finals Slated Here Tuesday Night

Locals-Newburgh To Vie for Honors In Main Attraction

Margaretville and Cairo Meet for Third Place at 8 P. M.: Awards Will Follow Games

With two outstanding games scheduled, the Y.M.C.A. Gold Medal Basketball Tournament swings into the homestretch Tuesday night at the "Y" boards when the big double-header will bring together the Newburgh-Caravan Clippers and the Kingston Y.M.C.A. and the Margaretville and Cairo American Legion quintets. Lou Schafer, tournament director, expects the year's biggest turnout at the twin bill. The biggest attraction of the evening barring nothing is the Newburgh-Kingston struggle which goes on the boards at 9 o'clock. On the basis of Newburgh's triumph in the Orange-Sullivan County League and the Newburgh City League, the visitors from the Hilly City will enter Tuesday's clash as favorites. On the other hand the local cagers are primed for this big battle and may prove to be a tough nut to crack with the chips down.

Newburgh, with such luminaries as Sammy Inzerro, George Kohler, Ed Pilus, Rudy Coppelli, Crawford, Howie Havens and Laubheimer, must be considered the favorite. All of these basketballers saw action in the P.U.S.O. League in other years and fans will attest that they formed quite a ball club for the Newburgh Free Academy. Coach John Blass, who has taken over the reins from Schafer during the tournament, is confident that his boys will come through in this big test. "We may not be as strong as Newburgh in some departments," Blass admitted, "but we do have a good scoring punch headed by Eddie Weaver and on this alone I think our chances for a victory Tuesday are good." On the 1945-46 season the Y.M.C.A. cagers have won approximately 80% of their games and that's an enviable record in any man's circuit.

First at 8 P. M.
The consolation game which takes the "Y" boards at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening should prove interesting to local fans. Both the Margaretville and Cairo aggregations, who will battle for third place in the tournament, have made fine showings in the playoffs to date and local fans can be assured that some more top-notch basketball will be on the menu when these two teams collide.

Two players from the Margaretville-Cairo clubs thus far gained the eye of judges in the selections for top men in the tournament. Boggs of Margaretville is the tournament's top scorer to date with 32 points while Swilpa of Cairo has netted 45. They'll see action against each other tomorrow. Other top scorers are Howie Havens of Newburgh 44, Ed Weaver, Kingston 41, Sammy Inzerro and George Kohler, Newburgh, 41, and 40; Brainerd, Cairo, 36.

Big Summer Sports Program for Veterans

Approximately 5,000 veterans in New York's eight Veterans Administration hospitals are expected to participate in a summer sports program which will range from lawn bowling to basketball, according to O. A. Gottschall, deputy veterans administrator for New York.

More than $30,000 worth of sports equipment is being distributed, physical directors are being appointed to hospital staffs and physical facilities are being prepared for the first large scale, organized athletic program ever to be offered hospitalized veterans. Physically handicapped men will be able to play such games as lawn bowling, croquet and horse shoes while the more active will compete on baseball, softball, golf, tennis, volleyball and badminton teams. Competition among hospital employees is scheduled because of its spectator interest to men who are too ill to take an active part in the program.

Baseball Briefs

Gordon Rejoins Yanks
Nashville, Tenn., April 8 (AP)—Jumping Joe Gordon, stellar second-baseman, has rejoined the New York Yankees and expects to break into the lineup Friday when the Bombers play the Dodgers in Brooklyn. Gordon was spiked on the left middle finger in St. Petersburg several weeks ago and has been out of action since.

Cooper Stays Behind
Hickory, N. C., April 8 (AP)—Walker Cooper, the New York Giants' $175,000 catcher just out of the Navy, booked up with the club at Jacksonville, Fla., but did not make the trip here for a game with Cleveland. He will work out at Jacksonville until Thursday with Jersey City, the Giants' International League farm.

Lippy Optimistic
Nashville, Tenn., April 8 (AP)—Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher is making optimistic pitching plans for the next five games against the New York Yankees. Starting with Ralph Branca today, Durocher is hoping to send five hurlers the full distance. Branca will be followed by Joe Hatten, Hank Behrman, Jean Pierre Roy and Hal Gregg in that order.

Newhouse Nurses Neck
St. Louis, Mo., April 8 (AP)—Hal Newhouse, Detroit Tiger mound ace, nursed a stiff neck today, the result of a drafty ride in a railroad coach. The Tigers, holding a 4-2 edge over Boston Braves in their current exhibition tour, met the Braves here today in the next to last game of a 10-game series.

Series Gets Closer
Oklahoma City, Okla., April 8 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox and the Pittsburgh Pirates brought their cross-country exhibition series into Oklahoma City today. The Pirates, holding a 13-11 edge in the 24 games already played despite yesterday's double victory by the White Sox.

Munier Fractures Toe
Tulsa, Okla., April 8 (AP)—Although beating the St. Louis Browns, 10-7, the National League champion Chicago Cubs left 15 players stranded on the sacks yesterday. The Browns' Vern Stephens, who came back from the Mexican League Saturday, hit a three-run homer. Bob Munier, St. Louis pitcher, fractured his toe stopping a line drive and will be out of action for at least a month.

Mickey Owen Less Talkative About Jumping to Mexico

Former Dodger Catcher Plans Workout With Toledo; 'Anything Can Happen'

San Antonio, Texas, April 8 (AP)—Former Brooklyn catcher Mickey Owen says he will work out for a few days with the Toledo Mudhens here, but he would give no hint today as to his plans to join the Mexican Baseball League.

Pasquel May Sue
Meanwhile, another major leaguer, shortstop Vernon Stephens, recouped from the Mexican circuit by the St. Louis Browns, says he won't lose any sleep over a threat by Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican League, to sue him for $100,000 damages for "breaking his contract."

"Pasquel is just trying to scare the players he now has down there so they won't leave his league," was Stephens' comment in Dallas yesterday.

Owen arrived here yesterday a lot less talkative about whether he will join the spotlighted Mexican League than he was a week ago when he announced after his release from the navy that he would sign a five-year contract as playing manager for the Torreon Club in that circuit.

"Anything can happen while I am here," he said when asked if the contract with Torreon would be signed while he is in San Antonio. "At present I have no definite plans other than to work out with Toledo for the next few days."

Expects Owen Today
Owen, 30, had been working for the Dodgers under a three-year contract which would have expired in 1945. However, he went into the navy last year before the contract ran out.

Alfonso Pasquel, an official of the Mexican League, said earlier in Nuevo Laredo, just across the border, he expected Owen there today.

Stephens, who stayed in the Mexican League long enough for only a fair warm-up, showed up in San Antonio Friday night. He said he had left the Mexican League at Monterrey in a hurry. "I played a game in Mexico City and then when I was supposed to go on the road, Pasquel said I should sign a contract," related Stephens. "I signed it with the idea that when I got close enough to the border I would leave. I didn't tell anyone my intentions because I was afraid they might do something to me."

Doesn't Like Country
"I signed a contract with Pasquel that said either party could terminate it at any time. I telegraphed Pasquel after getting to Texas and had the conversation recorded," Stephens declared. "I A. B. Chandler all players who want to join the Mexican League must be released without fear of suspension if they do so by April 16."

Upstate Keglers Grab Top Honors in Women's Tourney

Syracuse Bowler Slams 576 to Top Class A Singles; Rochester Top in Doubles

Albany, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—Bowlers from the central and western part of the state today dominated the top standings in the 13th Annual New York Women's Bowling Association tournament at nearby Menands.

The tournament recessed early today after week-end competition. Play will be resumed next week-end.

Margaret Hildenberg, Syracuse, topped the pins for 576 to grab the Class A singles leadership. Pacing the Class A doubles were Madeline Gwendolyn Buys, of Rochester, with 1079.

Officers were elected at the association's annual meeting Saturday. Julia F. Lasher of Albany was re-elected president. Aileen Sheldon of Malone was named sergeant-at-arms and Theresa Breeze, Binghamton, and Frances Gray, Rochester, were elected to the executive board. Ruth C. Grid Eagles Sign Steve Van Buren

Led N. F. L. in Ground Gaining Last Year

Philadelphia, April 8 (AP)—Steve Van Buren, called by many one of the greatest fullbacks in professional football history, was under contract today to play three more years with the Philadelphia Eagles.

The signing of the speedy Louisiana University star yesterday terminated rumors that Van Buren would quit the Eagles for more cash in the All-America Conference. Terms were not announced.

Van Buren led the National Football League last season in ground gaining, scoring and kicking.

Hints on Golf Begin Today

Beginning today The Freeman is publishing a new series of a sports feature entitled "Better Golf" by Sam Snead. It is hoped that the forthcoming installments will be of as much help to the readers as the past feature on "Better Bowling" by Billy Sixty. (Editor's Note).

By SAM SNEAD
Pictured are some important points of the golf swing seldom illustrated. Figure one is a back, top view. It shows clearly that the golfer has failed to pivot his shoulders far enough to bring the golf shaft in parallel with the desired line of flight. This is a serious flaw in the mechanics of his swing. The result would be that this player would swing the clubhead into the ball outside-in across the direction line, instead of slightly inside-out.

Fix this point in your memory. Now note Figure No. 2. The path traveled by the clubhead illustrates the player swinging outside-in across the direction line. One of two things will happen. The ball will travel straight off line to the left or, if the player's hands are slightly in front of the club head at impact, the ball will slice. Swing inside-out with all clubs. Victory in Masters Tourney Is First For Sailor Keiser

Ex-Sailor Takes Title When Hogan Misses Short Putt on Final Hole

Augusta, Ga., April 8 (AP)—Herman Keiser, an ex-sailor from Akron, Ohio, who was given no more than an outside chance of winning the Masters tournament, today holds the distinction of having won the coveted $10,000 event from the game's most talented stars.

Keiser, a 31-year-old former caddy, in his own words "sorta backed into the title" when Ben Hogan, the leading money winner of the year, missed a short putt on the final hole yesterday to hand the gangling blonde his first major victory.

About 20 minutes before Hogan, who was putting from 125 yards, Pa. three putted the final green from 15 feet. Keiser, who had led from the first day of the 72-hole event, also had taken three putts from 20 feet to give him a 282. Hogan had a 283 to make him the runnerup for the second straight time.

First Major Conquest
Keiser until he won the $2,500 first prize here, hadn't won a major tournament since he captured the Miami Four-Ball tournament with Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., in 1942. Hogan, ironically enough, finished in a tie here with Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, in 1942, but lost the playoff. His second place yesterday was worth $1,500.

Keiser had a 37-37 over the 6,800-yard National Golf Club layout yesterday, while Hogan had a 33-35. Bob Hamilton of Chicago had a 72 for a 287 total to win third place and $1,000, and Jimmie Demaret of Houston, Texas, Jim Ferrier of Chicago, and Ky Lafon of Orlando, Fla., shared fourth place at 289 and each won $683.

Nelson and Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., both rated as possible winners were next at 290 with Chick Harbert of Detroit, and Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C.

The tournament here ended the P.G.A.'s winter tour. The summer tour opens at Houston on May 9.

Hymes Turn Back Saugerties Five In Special Match

Hymes All Stars took a 121 pin decision away from Saugerties in a special match at the Central Recreation alleys Saturday night with Lou Hymes pacing the winners with a hefty 619 triple. Whitaker of Saugerties was high man in the match with a cool 629.

The All Stars spanked the maples for games of 954, 942 and 982 for their 2878 team series against Saugerties 867, 947 and 943 for 2757.

Hymes posted individual scores of 181, 220 and 218 for his 619 while Whitaker had 191, 216 and 222. Gil Sampson and Freddie Rice followed with 583 and 580. Sampson's 223 was high for Hymes and tied Ricketson of Saugerties who unleashed a 223 solo.

The score:

In The Pocket

The final week of the "Pocket" publication for the 1945-1946 season finds us with many topics still untouched, but come next Saturday we plan to call it quits for the season and turn our attention to such comparatively strange pursuits as golf and fishing.

Which reminds us—does anyone have a set of old golf clubs they would like to dispose of at a reasonable price? (Business office, please overlook.)

Six-hundred triplets were scarce last week but the slump is indicative of the normal late-season let-down. Charlie Gruenwaldt bashed a 638 in the Major League, while Gil Sampson reeled off 636. Gil accomplished a rare feat in rolling, three PGs in succession. Thirty straight clean franks is an accomplishment that compares with a perfect 300-score. Check back over your career and see how many times you have done it.

Among the male sparklers were "Pope" Myers with 238, Pete Ferraro 235 and Leo Everett, who aided Gruenwaldt's 3100 series with 229 and 203. Larry Weisaupt posted 226, while Norm Niles banged a 412 2-game total with 234-208. Fred Rice shot 826 in the Mid-Season League with 234 high. Jack Dawkins found the range for 217-588, while Ray Otta topped 214 and Harry Wilber 234.

Blinder was the Good Neighbor League standout with 225. G. Goldfarb posted 213, Sam Marcus 212 and Irving Adner 226. George Dawkins, shooting without the handicap of sawed-off guns, rocked the Independent circuit with 235 and 616. Ward DuBois had 210 and 214.

Elsewhere in the male circuits, Charlie Raible, former City League fireballer (bowling version) pounded out a 223 in the Electrical loop. Nick Turk rolled 218, Jimmy Burns 209, while "Stubby" Jordan accounted for 202 and 203.

Marie O'Donnell was top lady bowler of the week with a 574

Cards, Senators Lead Grapefruit Baseball League

New York, April 8 (AP)—The Washington Senators and the St. Louis Cardinals looked today like the winners of the 1946 Grapefruit championships of the American and National Leagues respectively as both clubs enjoyed commanding leads in their divisions with the start of the regular season only eight days away.

The Senators, on top for the third consecutive week, rang up five victories without a loss during the week's play to bring their total to 18 wins and seven losses for an average of 7.20. The New York Yankees are second with 37 triumphs and 22 defeats for .627.

The Cardinals won six out of seven games last week and their record now reads 19 wins and 10 lost for .653. The Philadelphia Phillies moved into second place with a mark of 13 and 12 for a .556 percentage.

Fishing, Boating Permits Are Ready for Ashokan Reservoir

Fishing Permits Required by Men and Women; Regulations Given by Commissioner

John M. Cannella, commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, has announced that fishing and boating permits for the Croton, Catskill and Long Island watersheds are available at the various fishing offices of the department.

During the war years, fishing permits for the upstate watersheds were issued to applicants at the Bronx, Valhalla, Katonah, Carmel, Kingston and Batavia offices after they were fingerprinted and submitted two photographs. These permits were "valid for the duration," and must now be exchanged for permits "valid until revoked."

The exchange may be made at any one of the above mentioned issuing offices. No new fingerprints will be required, and if the photograph on the old permit is still in good condition it may be transferred to the new permit. Where the photograph is torn or illegible, a new one must be furnished.

Applicants who have never previously held a fishing permit are required to appear at one of the issuing offices, fill out an application, submit to fingerprinting and furnish two small full-face photographs.

Commissioner Cannella pointed out that the new rules permit fishing and boating in the same areas in which these activities were permitted before the war, with minor distance restrictions from dams, gatehouses and other departmental structures.

Fishing and boating is allowed on the Ashokan Reservoir subject to the following exceptions—Except that boating and fishing will not be permitted within 1000 feet of the south end of Olive Bridge Dam to the circle on Leonard Hill, or from the middle dike to the north end of the dividing weir bridge, but not including the north end.

"As formerly," Commissioner Cannella further pointed out, "only substantial rowboats of a minimum length of 12 feet, and of a type considered safe by Department representatives, will be licensed."

Boating permits are obtainable by mail from the Bronx office of the department, after the applicant has obtained his reservoir fishing permit, and the boating permit will be issued for a specific lake or reservoir. Boating permittees who have the same permit number for years will continue to retain that number. It will facilitate receipt of boating permits if applicants will enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Fishing permits are required by both men and women and are limited to one permit per person per state. Children under 16 are not permitted on water supply property unless accompanied by an adult permit holder who assumes responsibility for their safety.

Commissioner Cannella stated that he "welcomed the support of the fishing fraternity in reporting any violation of rules and regulations to watershed inspectors, particularly insofar as the public health law is concerned," and emphasized that "while the department is happy to be able to afford the limited recreational facilities its first obligation was to bring to the citizens of New York a pure and potable supply of water," and to that end urged "fishing and boating permittees to conform to these reasonable rules and regulations."

Kite-Flying Meet Is Scheduled Here Saturday, April 27

Competition Open to All Ages; Homemade Kites Must Be Used; Alex Fohrman Chairman

The first spring kite-flying meet ever to be held in the history of this city will take place at the municipal stadium Saturday afternoon, April 27. Sid Lutzin of the department of recreation told The Freeman today. The meet will start at 2 o'clock and a banner entry field is predicted.

Open to Adults

The old adage "Go Fly Your Kite" will hold true in the meet this spring as the entry field will be thrown wide open to not only children but adults as well. Three age classifications have been listed—the first will be for youngsters up to 12 years of age, the second 12 to 17, and the third category for contestants 17 and over.

The April 27th competition will be handled by Alex Fohrman who has piloted various kite-flying meets in the past. League and other New York city events.

In announcing the meet Sid Lutzin said the only stipulation was that all kites must be homemade. Prizes will be awarded to each winner in each division.

Providing enough interest is forthcoming in this first spring affair, the recreation department has plans to make it an annual occasion.

Beginning Tuesday all public schools in the city will be notified of the meet.

Traffic Control Committee Will Meet on Tuesday

The traffic control committee of the Common Council will hold a public hearing on the question of installing parking meters in the business districts on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the council chambers in the city hall.

At the regular meeting of the Common Council held earlier in the month the Chamber of Commerce filed with the aldermen a report from its retail committee, and giving the result of a recent poll of the members of the Chamber of Commerce on the question of installing meters. This poll resulted in a 3 to 1 ratio in favor of meters.

A communication from George E. Yerry, business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council, opposing installation of meters was also read at the council meeting and referred to the traffic control committee.

Margolis Has New Factory Building On Crown Street

George Margolis, proprietor of the Hal-Mar Manufacturing Co., Inc., at 66-68 North Front street, last week took title to the two-story brick building at 73-75 Crown street. Mr. Margolis plans eventually to move his factory from the present location to the Crown street building.

The Crown street building was formerly owned by Mrs. Ann Bock, and is occupied on the ground floor by the Kingston Used Furniture Co., and the second floor as living apartments.

The Hal-Mar concern, which was established several years ago on North Front street, manufactures women's blouses.

Bill Provides Extra Post Office Wages

A bill to provide additional compensation for postmasters and employees of the postal service has passed the House of Representatives and now awaits Senate action. Congressman Jay LeFevre of New Paltz, notified 83 first and second-class post offices in Ulster county.

The bill designed to establish uniform procedures for computing compensation and for other purposes approved July 6, 1945, provides for a $400 raise in the annual pay of postal employees.

The measure further stipulates that employees paid on an hourly or part-time basis shall receive additional compensation at the rate of 20 cents an hour.

Postmasters at post offices of the fourth class shall receive additional compensation at the rate of 20 per cent of their basic annual pay.

The provisions of the act do not apply to mail-order shops, employees of the mail-equipment shops, job cleaners in first and second-class post offices and employees who are repaid on a fee or contract basis.

One of the earliest ways of measuring time was by burning a candle or a stick.

Law Provides Extra Assistance

School Districts Helping Delinquents Will Get Added Money

Albany, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—Extra state assistance for public school districts holding special classes for delinquent children is provided in a bill signed by Governor Dewey.

The measure, Dewey said, will support the administration's efforts to reduce juvenile delinquency.

Signing the bill yesterday, the governor said in a statement that it was not possible to estimate now the amount of money to be paid annually as a result of the legislation.

"The amount will not be large," he said, "and will, indeed be very well spent."

Dewey declared that the "reduction of juvenile delinquency is a prime objective of this administration. The extra cost of handling the delinquent child is universally recognized. By approval of this bill, the state will be assisting in supporting that burden."

Dewey signed other bills which increase the membership of the State Mediation Board from five to seven and permit appointment of two temporary members.

Continue an emergency provision allowing service personnel admission to horse racing tracks for half price.

Allow public employees who are veterans of World War 2 leaves of absence on Memorial and Armistice Days.

Permit state senators whose terms of office expire to purchase their Senate seats for $25.

Continue the State Institute of Agriculture on Long Island as the Long Island Agricultural and Technical Institute.

Extend the provisions of the State Labor Relations Act to employees of religious, educational or charitable organizations whose work is in connection with the operation of buildings by the organizations for a profit.

Federal Bearing Listed in Charges

Poughkeepsie Concern Is Indicted; Will Answer in Cleveland

Cleveland, April 8 (AP)—Three individuals and six ball bearing companies were called for arraignment today under a federal indictment charging conspiracy to fix prices in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

The defendants were General Motors Corp., Detroit; SKF Industries, Inc., Philadelphia; Marlin-Rockwell Corp., Jamestown, N. Y.; Fafnir Bearing Co., Inc., New Britain, Conn.; Federal Bearing Co., Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Norma-Hoffman Bearing Corp., Stamford, Conn.; Fred G. Hughes of Bristol, Conn., general manager of the New Departure Division of General Motors; Charles F. Stanley of New Britain, vice president and sales manager of Fafnir Bearing Co., and Howard Johnston of Jamestown, N. Y., sales manager of Marlin-Rockwell Corp.

The indictment, returned March 11, described the companies as "Big Six" of the anti-friction bearing industry, producing about 95 per cent of all bearings manufactured in the United States. It was returned following more than a year's investigation by the Federal Grand Jury here.

The complaint charged a "combination and conspiracy to fix and maintain arbitrary and non-competitive prices" was started around 1933 and had continued up to the time of the indictment.

It also claimed representatives of the six companies held secret meetings "where ball bearing prices were discussed and agreed upon."

Of the nine provinces of Canada, seven have a coastline on salt water.

Mead-for-Governor Boom Is Begun by Democratic Party

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—Persons prominent in the Democratic party have served notice the party's 1946 election campaign was underway and have started a Mead-for-Governor boom.

The party launched into the campaign Saturday night when Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick, Senator Mead and others spoke at the Erie County Democratic committee's annual Grover Cleveland $25-a-plate dinner attended by 750.

Fitzpatrick, who declared that Dewey's administration "has delayed and strangled the housing program initiated by the Democratic party" departed from his prepared text to say:

"This is a campaign year. A governor is to be elected. A full state ticket is to be elected. A United States senator is to be chosen. Our campaign has begun and I can assure you that the Democratic party will carry forward the progressive and liberal policies of the (Alfred E.) Smith and (Franklin D.) Roosevelt and (Herbert H.) Lehman administrations."

"We will present to the people of this state liberal and progressive candidates for every office."

Both George B. Doyle, chairman of the Erie County Democratic committee, and Dr. Julian Park, dean of the University of Buffalo College of Arts and Sciences who acted as toastmaster, referred to Senator Mead as "the next governor of New York state."

Mrs. Roosevelt Talks
Mrs. Roosevelt, who asked for support of the United Nations, prefaced her talk with acknowledgment she was appearing at a political dinner and added:

"One thing we do know—that the senator will give the best that he has to give to whatever he is nominated for."

Mead said in acknowledging the tributes:

"I am glad to be among friends. I include those who prematurely nominated me for governor of New York state. One of my colleagues (in the state) has said it is a sin to resign from the United States senate to take state office."

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has been mentioned in Democratic circles as a possible candidate for the U. S. senate, was asked in an interview preceding the affair whether she would like to run for the senate.

"No," she replied. "I've said so a million times. I do not want to run for anything."

Turkey Dinner Date
The annual turkey dinner and fair of the Fair Street Reformed Church will be held on Tuesday, November 5.

Michigan, an inland state, has a shoreline larger than any other state in the union.

Firemen's Program Committee to Report

The program committee of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association which has been working on the program book in connection with the vaudeville show to be presented in the Municipal Auditorium on May 23, will make a final report at the meeting to be held in the city court room on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The committee will meet in conjunction with a regular meeting of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association which also will be held on Tuesday evening.

Chilly Weather Continues
Chilly temperatures continued to prevail in Kingston over the weekend with the official thermometer at the city hall recording a low of 29 degrees last night. Saturday the temperatures ranged from 36 to 54 degrees, while on Sunday the readings were 34 low to a high of 50 degrees.

Gardner-Sewell Wedding Takes Place

The wedding of Miss Tisana Sewell, daughter of Mrs. Marion Woods of California, formerly of Woodstock, and William Joyce Sewell of Oyster Bay, L. I., to Ernest Gardner, son of Mrs. Francis J. Phillips of Mr. Tromper and Burton W. Gardner, New York, took place Saturday, March 30 at 5 p. m. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church.

The church was decorated with branches of yellow forsythia and clusters of white snapdragons.

The bride was given away in marriage by Walter Seaton, who wore a tailored costume of pearl gray with matching hat trimmed with rose and a corsage of white roses. Miss Judy Seaton, as maid of honor wore a shell pink dress with black horsehair hat trimmed with rose.

James Co-grove was best man. Ushers were Victor Allen and Donald McShane.

After the ceremony a reception for the members of the wedding party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seaton.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory tulle with illusion colonial yoke and a fingertip veil and carried a bridal bouquet of white sweet peas. Her sister, Mrs. Harry Hume of Summitville, was matron of honor. She was dressed in mauve tulle and net and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Roger Cointot was best man for his brother. Ushers were David Osterhoudt, Arthur Distel and Vrooman and Kervyn Krom.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of aqua crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Thulow Murden sang "O Promise Me," and "Always," accompanied by John Terwilliger, at the organ, preceding the ceremony.

The bride, a graduate of Ellenville High School, is employed as bookkeeper at the Ulster Garage. She will make her home with her parents here for the present.

A reception for 60 relatives and friends was held at the Mitchell House immediately following the ceremony. The tables were decorated with daffodils and ferns.

Health Nurse Week Program in City

Card Party Will Be Held For Well Baby Clinic

This week has been designated as "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week" throughout the United States, and in Kingston, an attractive program of interesting events has been planned as the city's share in the nation-wide observance of the week.

Today open house was held in the rooms of the Board of Health in the city hall, from 11 to 12 a. m. and in the afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock, to afford the public an opportunity of meeting the public health nursing staff of Kingston, and learn more of the activities carried on by this branch of the city's public health program.

This series of open house will be held daily for the remainder of the week.

Tuesday evening a big card party will be held in the municipal auditorium, and the funds raised will be used to defray the setting up of a Well Baby Clinic at the Health Center on East O'Reilly street. Tickets for the card party may be obtained at the door that evening.

Mayor W. F. Edelmuth will deliver an address appropriate to the week over the local radio station at 7:15 o'clock this evening. Other speakers during the week will include Dr. John F. Larkin, city health officer, Dr. Henry L. Bibby,

This Week Is Dedicated To All Public Health Nurses

This week, April 7-13, is being celebrated throughout the country as Know Your Public Health Nurse Week.

It is especially important for all citizens to know about the health facilities of their community and use them to the best advantage. Unfortunately not enough people understand public health nursing service, and how it can help them in sickness and in health. It is hoped that Know Your Public Health Nurse Week will bring better understanding of public health nursing services to every home in the towns of Ulster county.

Most people are accustomed, the year round, to seeing the blue-clad nurse with the black bag hurrying from call to call along the highways and byways. Too many, however, have taken her for granted and often are vague in understanding the work she does helping to guard the health of the community. Now comes the time when all are asked to join in a community-wide educational program that will acquaint everyone with her work.

a member of the health board, and Miss Gladys Weber, supervisory nurse of the nursing service.

DESSERT IMPLEMENTS

A reader says: "I hope you won't mind my repeating a question which you answered several weeks ago, which is this: When the dessert is dished in the kitchen and brought in on individual plates, should the silver be put on the plate with the dessert or on the table with the other silver? Your answer to this was: Correctly, the dessert implements are brought in on the dessert plate, but for convenience they may be brought on with the dessert itself or be placed horizontally above each place when the table is set. Forgive me, but I do not understand what you mean. I was describing very formal service, when the dessert implements are brought in on each plate without food on it. The dessert then is passed around the table. If you serve dessert on each plate, you either could put the spoon or fork (or both) beside the dessert or you could place the implements on the table horizontally above the service plate when the table is set. If put above instead of at the service plate, the dessert implements will not be used for an earlier course.

Making Wedding List

Dear Mrs. Post: Please explain in detail how the wedding lists are made up. How do I know how far down the list of the relatives I can go to send invitations, when I do not know how many there would be on the groom's side before asking to have their list? Our own family is quite large and there are also many personal friends and business friends whom my father wishes to include.

Answer: You have to get the groom's list to add to your own. When doing this you, of course, cut out duplicate names. If the lists are very long and different, you may have to cut out acquaintances of both families. If one list is long and the other is short, they balance each other.

Smoking During Meals

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a friend who insists that it is not proper to smoke between the beginning of a meal and dessert. I happen to like to smoke throughout the meal but feel very self-conscious about lighting a cigarette when he is sitting next to me.

Answer: It depends upon whether you are his guest or he is yours. If you are his guest, he should permit you to do what you like. If he is your guest, you should show consideration for his feelings and not smoke.

For Mrs. Post's booklet 504 "Etiquette of Table Setting," send 10 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Accord Health Group Joins Fight on Cancer

Accord Health Nursing Committee has joined the fight against cancer. A pot luck supper is scheduled to be held at the Accord Health Center on Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. A program on cancer—its menace and its control—will follow the supper.

Mrs. William Treadway, president of the Accord Health Nursing Committee will preside. Speaker for the occasion will be Dr. B. F. Mattison, New York state health officer.

Mrs. Harry VanWagenen, state commander of the Field Army of the American Cancer Society will tell the story of what the women of the country are doing to fight this scourge. Other representatives of the Field Army who will attend are Mrs. Maurice Davenport of High Falls, Ulster county commander of the Field Army, and Mrs. Millard Davis, Field Army captain of the township of Rochester, who arranged the pot luck supper and program with the Accord Health Nursing Committee.

The general public is invited to attend the supper and educational program. The only admission will be a covered dish or some other small contribution for the "pot."

How Long Will SOAP SHORTAGES LAST?

ON THE GLOOMY SIDE

There are not nearly enough fats in the country to make all the soaps, soap powders, and soap flakes you want. So short is the supply, the government must decide how much fat can be released to make soap and other peacetime goods.

Besides, the supplies of soaps many of you housewives have had in reserve are running low—and the demand for soap is increasing.

ON THE BRIGHT SIDE

Most of you housewives have continued to turn in fats. You've helped keep our industrial fat supply large enough to meet minimum needs.

But it's a close race. Any letdown on your part can mean less soap for everybody.

By turning in used fats you're helping to bring back bigger supplies of scarce soaps. Keep on the job, get 4¢ for every pound.

Where there's fat—there's soap

Keresman Added To List of Police Chief Candidates

Who will succeed Chief of Police Charles Phinney, when he retires on April 30? This question is causing considerable speculation.

The members of the Board of Police Commissioners are not doing any talking. Mayor W. F. Edelmuth, when interviewed recently by a reporter, said that the board had several likely candidates, both inside and outside the department, under consideration. He declined to divulge the names of the candidates.

However, while the police board remains silent on the question, street rumor has added another name to the list of candidates under discussion for the post of police chief.

Ulster HomeGroup Plans 1946 Program At Local Meeting

Seventy-five officers and leaders of the Ulster County Home Bureau met at the Governor Clinton Hotel on April 5 to plan the program for the coming year. Requests for lessons on home furnishings and the family wardrobe were most popular including lessons on slip covers, caning and rush seating of chairs, stenciling of Boston rockers and Hitchcock chairs, refinishing furniture, lamp shades, curtains and draperies, the making of gloves, tailored suits, children's clothing, the use of sewing machine attachments, etc.

Women feel that the suggestions received during the past year or how to meet food shortages were most pertinent and ask to have the same kind of information included in food and nutrition lessons next year. In addition, since entertaining was reduced during war years and now is being resumed. They request a three lesson project on that subject including menus on luncheon and supper dishes which will take account of shortages.

Recognizing the importance of good management to success in homemaking, management leaders recommend that more individual kitchen and cupboard conferences be held. That plans be made for getting information out on new equipment as well as on some of the new cleaning agents. A few women would like help on household accounts and budgeting.

Work will be continued on mental health, with an authority in this field speaking at a country wide meeting; books on the subject will be recommended from time to time through the year.

The study of current public problems will be continued with brief reports and discussions at regular monthly meetings in the units with speakers at unit and regional meetings once during the year.

Mrs. Arnold van Lear, county chairman, presided at the meeting. She was assisted by county leaders who, assisted by local leaders, summarized requests in their respective fields:

Mrs. A. L. Borwin, citizenship; Mrs. Ethel Allen, clothing; Mrs. Edward Davenport, food and nutrition; Mrs. H. M. Eppes, home management; Mrs. David DuBois, home furnishings; Mrs. William Powers presented plans for publicity.

Miss Everice Parsons, home demonstration agent, working with unit officers, scheduled the necessary administrative meetings throughout the year.

Miss Parsons complimented the leaders on their fine work explaining that unless they were on the job literally hundreds of lessons would have to be omitted.

Mrs. Van Lear invited those present to give special consideration to means of cooperating with President Truman's call for overcoming food waste and reduction in the consumption of cereal grains.

The World Today

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
(OF Foreign Affairs Analyst)

It looks very much as though the status of the Franco government in Spain may provide another early crisis with which the United Nations Security Council will have to struggle.

This is a delicate and vastly important situation and one which involves a further divergence of view among the Big Three—Russia, America and the Western Allies on the one side and the United Nations on the other. It is an embarrassing baby to be left on the council doorstep. Still it is clear that it will have to be dealt with sooner or later and, having studied the position at close range recently, it strikes me that the sooner the better.

If the Spanish issue were one of those things which gave promise of solving itself, it might be discreet to let it slide. But fresh pressure for action against Generalissimo Franco is developing from Eastern Europe in Russia, from Russia and France, who insist that his regime is a menace to international peace. The United States and Britain, while turning thumbs down on the Falangist government, don't subscribe to the thesis that it threatens peace.

The latest development is Poland's decision to sever diplomatic relations with Spain. Rumania already had made that move last Friday. From the Polish Embassy in London also came the statement that Poland would raise the matter in the Security Council and call on the other United Nations to break relations with Madrid.

Republicans Await Chance

Meantime, of course, the Spanish Republican government which is in exile in friendly France, under the presidency of Jose Giral, is waiting for fortune to give it the open sesame that will crash the gates of the Spanish capital. This represents the Leftist government paying $5 a day for each day worked, as heretofore.

Relief Costs Increase

Harrisburg, Pa., April 8 (AP)—Relief costs in Pennsylvania increased more than $3,500,000 last year with the federal and state governments expending $66,832,000 for all types of public assistance. Robert P. Wray, acting secretary of the Department of Public Assistance, said in his annual report that the trend of relief in the state turned slightly upward after V-J Day. He listed the state's share of relief in all its forms at $45,404,000 and the federal government's contribution at $21,428,000.

Body in River Is Identified Sunday As William Stairs

Man Had Been Missing From State Hospital in Poughkeepsie Since Feb. 12

A body found floating in the Hudson river, Sunday morning, at Krum Elbow, was identified as that of William Stairs, 58, who had been reported missing from the Hudson River State Hospital in Poughkeepsie since February 12.

Employees of the West Shore Railroad notified State Police at the Highland barracks about the presence of the body in the river, and Corporal John Metzger was detailed to investigate. He learned that the body was that of the missing William Stairs.

Coroner Jesse McHugh of Wallkill gave a verdict of accidental drowning, after considering details of the case.

Esopus Post Will Show Movies

World Series of 1945 Will Be Feature Film

It will be World's Series of 1945 at Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion, meeting tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock at St. Leo's Hall, Port Ewen. The movies of the great fall classic in the form of three reels of sound-on-film will be shown at the conclusion of the regular monthly meeting of the Post.

These pictures are the official American League pictures written and directed by Lew Fonseca and narrated by Bob Elson. The main purpose of the picture is to provide entertainment for the members of the Occupational Forces overseas and the veterans in our Army and Navy Hospitals, and to bring them the play by play highlights of all of the World Series games with many added features. The movies will include the important plays of every game between the Detroit Tigers, World's Champions, and the champions of the National League, the Chicago Cubs.

Town of Esopus Post invites all veterans of the town to bring their friends and relatives and especially their sons, since this will be an open meeting.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting and movies and a social hour enjoyed.

Traffic Control Committee Will Meet on Tuesday

The traffic control committee of the Common Council will hold a public hearing on the question of installing parking meters in the business districts on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the council chambers in the city hall.

At the regular meeting of the Common Council held earlier in the month, the Chamber of Commerce filed with the aldermen a report from its retail committee, and giving the result of a recent poll of the members of the Chamber of Commerce on the question of installing meters. This poll resulted in a 3 to 1 ratio in favor of meters.

A communication from George E. Yerry, business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council, opposing installation of meters was also read at the council meeting and referred to the traffic control committee.

Margolis Has New Factory Building On Crown Street

George Margolis, proprietor of the Hal-Mar Manufacturing Co., Inc., at 66-68 North Front street, last week took title to the two-story brick building at 73-75 Crown street. Mr. Margolis plans eventually to move his factory from the present location to the Crown street building.

The Crown street building was formerly owned by Mrs. Ann Bock, and is occupied on the ground floor by the Kingston Used Furniture Co., and the second floor as living apartments.

The Hal-Mar concern, which was established several years ago on North Front street, manufactures women's blouses.

Bill Provides Extra Post Office Wages

A bill to provide additional compensation for postmasters and employees of the postal service has passed the House of Representatives and now awaits Senate action. Congressman Jay LeFevre of New York, notified 83 first and second-class post offices in Ulster county.

The bill designed to establish uniform procedures for computing compensation and for other purposes approved July 6, 1945, provides for a $400 raise in the annual pay of postal employees.

The measure further stipulates that employees paid on an hourly or part-time basis shall receive additional compensation at the rate of 20 cents an hour.

Postmasters at post offices of the fourth class shall receive additional compensation at the rate of 20 per cent of their basic annual pay.

The provisions of the act does not apply to skilled-trades employees of the mail-equipment shops, job cleaners in first and second-class post offices and employees who are repaid on a fee or contract basis.

One of the earliest ways of measuring time was by burning a candle or a stick.

Law Provides Extra Assistance

School Districts Helping Delinquents Will Get Added Money

Albany, N. Y., April 8 (P)—Extra state assistance for public school districts holding special classes for delinquent children is provided in a bill signed by Governor Dewey.

The measure, Dewey said, will support the administration's efforts to reduce juvenile delinquency.

Signing the bill yesterday, the governor said in a statement that it was not possible to estimate now the amount of money to be paid annually as a result of the legislation.

"The amount will not be large," he said, "and will, indeed be very well spent."

Dewey declared that the "reduction of juvenile delinquency is a prime objective of this administration. The extra cost of handling the delinquent child is universally recognized. By my approval of this bill, the state will be assisting in supporting that burden."

Dewey signed other bills which increase the membership of the State Mediation Board from five to seven and permit appointment of two temporary members.

Continue an emergency provision allowing service personnel admission to horse racing tracks for half price.

Allow public employees who are veterans of World War 2 leaves of absence on Memorial and Armistice Days.

Permit state senators whose names are on the list to purchase their Senate seats for $25.

Continue the State Institute of Agriculture on Long Island as the Long Island Agricultural and Technical Institute.

Extend the provisions of the State Labor Relations Act to employees of religious, educational or charitable organizations whose work is in connection with the operation of buildings by the organizations for a profit.

Federal Bearing Listed in Charges

Poughkeepsie Concern Is Indicted; Will Answer in Cleveland

Cleveland, April 8 (P)—Three individuals and six ball bearing companies were called for arraignment today under a federal indictment charging conspiracy to fix prices in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

The defendants were General Motors Corp., Detroit; SKF Industries, Inc., Philadelphia; Marlin-Rockwell Corp., Jamestown, N. Y.; Fafnir Bearing Co., Inc., New Britain, Conn.; Federal Bearing Co., Inc., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Norma-Hoffman Bearing Corp., Stamford, Conn.; Fred C. Hughes of Bristol, Conn., general manager of the New Departure Division of General Motors; Charles F. Stanley of New Britain, vice president and sales manager of Fafnir Bearing Co., and Howard Johnston of Jamestown, N. Y., sales manager of Marlin-Rockwell Corp.

The indictment, returned March 11, described the companies as "Big Six" of the anti-friction bearing industry, producing about 95 per cent of all bearings manufactured in the United States. It was returned following more than a year's investigation by the Federal Grand Jury here.

The complaint charged a "combination and conspiracy to fix and maintain arbitrary and non-competitive prices" was started around 1933 and had continued up to the time of the indictment.

It also claimed representatives of the six companies held secret meetings "where ball bearing prices were discussed and agreed upon."

Of the nine provinces of Canada, seven have a coastline on salt water.

Mead-for-Governor Boom Is Begun by Democratic Party

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8 (P)—Persons prominent in the Democratic party have served notice the party's 1946 election campaign was underway and have started a Mead-for-Governor boom.

The party launched into the campaign Saturday night when Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick, Senator Mead and others spoke at the Erie County Democratic committee's annual Grover Cleveland 825-plate dinner attended by 750.

Fitzpatrick, who declared that Dewey's administration "has delayed and strangled the housing program initiated by the Democratic party" departed from his prepared text to say:

"This is a campaign year. A governor is to be elected. A full state ticket is to be elected. A United States senator is to be chosen. Our campaign has begun and I can assure you that the Democratic party will carry forward the progressive and liberal policies of the (Alfred E.) Smith, (Franklin D.) Roosevelt and (Herbert H.) Lehman administrations."

"We will present to the people of this state liberal and progressive candidates for every office."

Both George B. Doyle, chairman of the Erie County Democratic Committee, and Dr. Julian Park, dean of the University of Buffalo College of Arts and Sciences who acted as toastmaster, referred to Senator Mead as "the next governor of New York state."

Mrs. Roosevelt Talks

Mrs. Roosevelt, who asked for support of the United Nations, prefaced her talk with acknowledgment she was appearing at a political dinner and added:

"One thing we do know—that the senator will give the best that he has to give to whatever he is nominated for."

Mead said in acknowledging the tributes:

"I am glad to be among friends. I include those who prematurely nominated me for governor of New York state. One of my colleagues (in the state) has said it is a sin to resign from the United States senate to take state office."

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has been mentioned in Democratic circles as a possible candidate for the U. S. senate, was asked in an interview preceding the affair whether she would like to run for the senate.

"No," she replied. "I've said so a million times. I do not want to run for anything."

Turkey Dinner Date

The annual turkey dinner and fair of the Fair Street Reformed Church will be held on Tuesday, November 5.

Michigan, an inland state, has a shoreline larger than any other state in the union.

Firemen's Program Committee to Report

The program committee of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association which has been working on the program book in connection with the vaudeville show to be presented in the Municipal Auditorium on May 23, will make a final report at the meeting to be held in the city court room on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The committee will meet in conjunction with a regular meeting of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association which also will be held on Tuesday evening.

Chilly Weather Continues

Chilly temperatures continued to prevail in Kingston over the week-end with the official thermometer at the city hall recording a low of 29 degrees last night. Saturday the temperatures ranged from 30 to 34 degrees, while on Sunday readings were 34 low to a high of 50 degrees.
